Errol Flynn, 50, Who Lived Life To Fullest, Dies

Heart Attack Fatal To Actor

(Picture on Page 2)

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Hard-living, hard-loving Errol Flynn died as he lived—gay, convival and in the company of a beautiful young girl.

A heart attack took his life Wednesday night at the age of 50.

Just before he died he confided to a doctor that he had suffered two previous heart seizures — something he had kept secret from his closest friends. He did not say where or when they occurred.

But it made no difference to the aging matinee idol. He had continued to live life to the full, pursuing his two admitted hobbies, women and liquor.

His death ended an almost legendary career which spanned piracy in the South Seas, swashbuckling movie fame, scandal, marital adventures and a small-scale role in the Cuban revolution.

Thrice-wed, Flynn was here with his shapely, blonde, 17-year-old girl friend, Beverly Aadland, on a combination business and pleasure trip. He had flown from Hollywood six days ago principally to arrange the sale of his beloved $100,000 yacht "Zaca."

Miss Aadland, who was with Flynn when he died in a penthouse apartment during a small farewell party, was prostrate Thursday and under heavy sedation.

Refuses To Believe Flynn Dead

Those close to her said she refused to believe Flynn was dead. A Vancouver newspaper columnist who encountered her wandering in the fog Wednesday night near the home where she and Flynn had been staying quoted her as saying: "He's alive. They've taken him to the hospital, but he's all right. He'll be home again in the morning."

Mrs. George Caldough, hostess to Flynn and his protege, said Miss Aadland had gone out for air to try to throw off the numbing effects of the sedatives. She, too, said the young woman still clung to the belief Flynn was not dead.

The cold, factual autopsy report was issued at midday. The coroner's office said Flynn suffered a coronary thrombosis—blood clot in the heart—and also had "a fatty degeneration of the liver."

Flynn's secretary, Ronnie Shadlow, who flew here Thursday from Los Angeles, said the actor will be buried in land he loved—on his ranch in Jamaica.

The Caldoughs, Flynn's friends for seven years and the purchasers of his yacht, also said he had often expressed the wish to them that he be buried in Jamaica.

Funeral Plans Incomplete

Shadlow said funeral arrangements will not be completed until word is received from Flynn's estranged wife, Pat Wymore, and his attorney in New York. Miss Wymore flew to Los Angeles Wednesday night from Washington, D.C., where she had a night club engagement.

Flynn and Miss Aadland were on their way to the airport for a return flight to Hollywood when they stopped off with the Caldoughs and other friends for a drink at the swank apartment of Dr. Grant Gould.

For two hours Flynn kept them spellbound with stories of movie greats—imitating them, acting out incidents as he was relating and displaying the same charm which fascinated men and women alike for more than two decades.

Suddenly he stopped, looked around and smiled. Bowing to Mrs. Caldough, he said, "I think I might lie down." Then he stepped toward the bedroom.

He turned as he reached the door and said smilingly: "But I shall return."

These were his last words.

Second Brush Blaze Erupts In California

Hundreds Of Men, Planes Fight Fires In 90 Degree Heat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two major fires blazed out of control Thursday in Los Angeles County.

One, a three-day-old, 4,500-acre blaze, is in foothills north of the suburbs of Altadena, Pasadena and La Canada.

A second fire erupted Thursday afternoon in Topanga Canyon, near the sea at Santa Monica, and quickly roared out of control across steep hillsides. There were no homes in its immediate path.

A smoke pall dimmed the sun across much of the county. The temperature was over 90 amid what the Weather Bureau termed "extreme fire hazard conditions."

Cigaret Blamed

Ventura County equipment rushed to help city and county crews in the rugged slopes of Topanga Canyon, an area swept just last year by a 5,000-acre blaze which destroyed 66 homes.

Thursday's blaze was burning along the east side of the winding, canyon road, 1½ miles north of the ocean and 15 miles west of Los Angeles.

The 4,500-acre fire—started at noon Tuesday apparently by a carelessly thrown cigaret — is in Angeles National Forest 15 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

Wednesday, it damaged three homes in suburban La Canada. Thursday it burned to the edge of a subdivision in neighboring Altadena.

100 Homes Threatened

The big threat was to a cluster of about 100 homes on a knoll above Altadena. Residents spent the night hosing down roofs and gardens. Firemen lined up scores of pumper trucks and saturated the knoll's brushy slopes. Despite the flood of watering the flames leaped up the knoll's sides to the edges of the yards before they were checked.

Fifteen hundred men, 18 water-bombing planes and countless pieces of equipment battled the blaze.

Industry, Union Leaders Listen To Fact-Finder

Industry and union spokesmen in the 93-day-old steel strike listen attentively to George W. Taylor, chairman of President Eisenhower's fact-finding panel, as the latter urges them to resume direct negotiations and seek an agreement. They later agreed to reopen talks. Left to right are R. Conrad Cooper, the industry's top negotiator; R. H. Larry, U. S. Steel vice president, and David J. McDonald, president of the steelworkers union. (AP Photofax)

Negotiations Will Resume This Morning

Fact-Finders Prod Antagonists Back To Bargaining Table

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Steelworkers' Union Thursday night made a scaled-down contract offer to representatives of management on the eve of new negotiations in the 93-day-old steel strike.

WASHINGTON (AP) —Government fact-finders prodded the steel strike antagonists back into direct negotiations Thursday, advising both sides to give some ground.

The union and the industry agreed to sit down together here Friday.

President Eisenhower's inquiry board wound up four days of hearings on issues behind the 93-day strike by saying the nation sorely wants a settlement.

George W. Taylor, the panel's chairman, said the crippling walkout, idling some 725,000 workers, is reaching the point where resuming steel production is more important than how it is done.

Arbitration Rejected

Taylor suggested that the industry and the striking United Steelworkers of America consider submitting their dispute to arbitration—the decision of an outside neutral—if they couldn't settle it on their own.

Both sides said they don't want arbitration, and prefer negotiations.

As the hearings ended, with the industry's presentation, Steelworkers President David J. McDonald went into a huddle with his union's executive board. The industry's coordinating committee also met.

Late in the day it was announced that R. Conrad Cooper, the steel industry's top negotiator, had called McDonald and arranged the meeting for Friday morning in McDonald's room in the Hotel Carlton here.

There was no apparent solid basis for expecting a settlement before Monday, when Taylor's panel must submit a report to Eisenhower. With this report in hand, Eisenhower would be free to seek a federal court injunction halting the strike for 80 days.

Mitchell At Work

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell was reported working behind the scenes with industry and union bigwigs, seeking to spur a settlement.

Similar maneuvers by Mitchell helped pave the way for a steel strike settlement in 1956.

The union has been seeking 15 cents an hour in wage and benefit gains for every year of a new contract—the same rate of increase, it says, it received under the expired three-year contract. Before the strike began July 15, steelworkers were making an average of $3.11 an hour.

Two Accused In Vigilante Slaying Freed

CHELSEA, Vt. (AP)—Robert O. Welch, 46, a country school janitor, won acquittal Thursday by directed verdict on a charge he murdered Orville A. Gibson, a prosperous farmer, as the outcome of vigilante action.

The state dropped its case against Frank W. Carpenter, 43, indicted with Welch.

Superior Court Judge Natt L. Divoll Jr. told a jury of eight men and four women the crime had not been connected with Welch in the state's evidence. Defense counsel Henry Black asked for the directed verdict without presenting any evidence or testimony.

Carpenter, who was to have been tried at a later date, was a spectator at Welch's trial. Testimony began Monday.

Atty. Gen. Frederick M. Reed said the Gibson case is "by no means closed." He said he would discuss it further with Orange County officials, adding: "We know Gibson died and we don't think he died as a result of his own activities."

Gibson's trussed body was found in the Connecticut River three months after he vanished Dec. 31, 1957.

The previous Christmas Day he had beaten his frail, hired hand, Eri Martin, 59, for spilling two cans of milk in Gibson's dairy barn in the hamlet of Newbury.

Community feeling built up, and there was talk of tar and feathers and giving Gibson a "dose of his own medicine," testimony revealed.

Key prosecution testimony was that Welch and Carpenter were seen in an automobile near the Gibson place the morning he disappeared.

Concerning Welch's presence near the Gibson farm, the court said:

"There was no proof Welch was an active participant in the planning or in the crime."

Eisenhower, Nixon Confer; Rift Denied

Policy Conflict Report Called Ridiculous

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon Thursday discussed a wide range of domestic and international problems — and possibly, the White House said, the 1960 presidential picture.

Associate press secretary Anne Wheaton reported the hour-long talk and went on to label as ridiculous a published report that Eisenhower and Nixon are in basic conflict on important policy matters.

At a news conference, Mrs. Wheaton volunteered that the President asked Nixon to stay on at the White House Thursday morning after the regular weekly meeting of the National Security Council.

"They discussed national and international problems of wide range," Mrs. Wheaton said.

The discussion took place as Nixon was preparing to leave for a two-week vacation in Florida. Eisenhower returned Wednesday from a brief visit to his boyhood home town, Abilene, Kan. The President last week ended a seven-day rest at Palm Springs, Calif.

"They have an understanding," Mrs. Wheaton explained, "that one tries to be in the city—Washington—when the other is away."

Mrs. Wheaton declined to specify the domestic and international problems Eisenhower and Nixon discussed.

Nixon is an unannounced front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination. Eisenhower has said he will take no side, publicly or privately, in selection next year of the party's candidate.

Giant Bomber, Tanker Plane Collide, Crash

HARDINSBURG, Ky. (AP)—A B52 Stratofortress and a KC135 refueling plane collided in midair Thursday night, causing a flash seen over most of Kentucky.

State police said they had reports of two survivors.

The Air Traffic Control Center at Indianapolis, control point for Kentucky, said the crash apparently occurred during a refueling operation.

The two planes were based at Columbus, Miss.

State police said they were told the B52 carried atomic equipment.

The Indianapolis control point said it was not known how many were aboard the planes. The weather was clear.

One of the planes reportedly went down 20 miles south of here. The other was believed down about 30 miles north, near the Ohio River.

Hardinsburg is 80 miles southwest of Louisville.

The Defense Department in Washington said disaster teams were en route from Barksdale Air Force Base, La., and the Strategic Air Command at Omaha, Neb.

Second Attempt On Kassem's Life Reported

BAGHDAD (UPI) — A high Iraqi military official charged Thursday that a "second sinful attempt" to assassinate Premier Abdel Karim Kassem has been uncovered.

Maj. Gen. Ahmad Salim-al-abdi also charged that the United Arab Republic "concentrated troops along the Iraqi republic's borders" prior to the first unsuccessful attempt to kill Kassem Oct. 7.

The statements were carried by Radio Baghdad which quoted comments given by the officer to the newspaper Ar-ray Al-am.

Al-abdi, military governor of Baghdad, did not reveal when the alleged second attempt was uncovered, or who was behind it. He said an investigation was under way to see whether it was linked to the first attempt.

The Oct. 7 attempt on Kassem's life was made in the afternoon when he was being driven to his residence. Three bullets struck the 45-year-old premier in the left hand and upper part of his arm. He is in good condition and is expected to be released from the hospital soon, according to the ministry of health.

'Busiest Burglar' Nabbed; Cops Try To Sort Out Loot

SAGINAW, Mich (AP) — Raymond LeRoy O'Dell, claimant to the title of the nation's busiest burglar, languished in jail Thursday while police tried to sort out the loot he got in 63 burglaries this year.

O'Dell, 20, gave police a detailed list of his robberies and the whereabouts of the estimated $15,000 loot he got. He waived examination in Municipal Court on two counts of breaking and entering and was jailed when unable to post $2,000 bond.

O'Dell, whose police record began when he was 15, told police he generally had a party going at his apartment on the night of his frequent burglaries. He would slip away, break into a place and get back to the party within 30 minutes.

He was trapped when police, finding a teen-ager who had been drinking, traced him to O'Dell's apartment and found some of the loot.

Two Die In Cave-In

ASHLAND, Ky. (UPI) — Two Ashland men were killed Thursday when they were trapped in the cave in of a water ditch near the Ashland city limits.

The victims were identified as Hobert (Happy) Hern, 62, and Jim Robbins, about 50.

De Gaulle Wins Huge Vote For Algerian Plan

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly early Friday voted President Charles de Gaulle a free hand in his effort to bring peace to Algeria through self-determination.

The unofficial tally of votes showed 441 approving the government's Algerian policy to 21 opposed, with 90 abstaining or not voting.

The constitution of the Fifth Republic does not require Parliament to pass on the President's actions. The massive endorsement of his policy gave him added strength to end the five-year nationalist rebellion.

Although De Gaulle has declared for the principle of self-determination by the Algerians he has made clear that he favors local autonomy for the country, not independence. Opponents of his plan feared, however, that autonomy would only be a stepping stone to independence.

They favor the third choice offered by De Gaulle — complete integration of Algeria with France.

But the main drama was played outside the Assembly. Most Frenchmen were more interested in just what might already be in the works to get a cease-fire in Algeria.

Despite repeated reports of secret diplomatic contacts in Tunis, Rabat, Madrid and elsewhere, there was still no official confirmation that the two sides were really getting together. But there was a growing feeling both inside Parliament and out that they were groping for contact.

Mae West's TV Date Canceled; Show 'Too Hot'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — CBS Thursday canceled a Mae West appearance on television's "Person to Person" show. A spokesman said some of her answers were "too hot to handle."

The show was taped here for use Friday night. The curvaceous Miss West, long a show business sex symbol, was interviewed by Charles Collingwood.

"It was felt," a CBS spokesman said, "that certain portions of the interview with Mae West might be misconstrued."

He declined to elaborate.

Mae, contacted in San Francisco, commented: "Me misconstrued? I generally make myself clear. I've always been rather frank. Maybe that was the trouble.

"They asked me questions and I gave them the answers, and everyone has enjoyed my answers before."

Movie actor James Mason and his wife will be the replacements.

U.S. To Fire 10 Space Rockets In One Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will mark International Rocket Week Nov. 16-22 by shooting aloft 10 research rockets intended to explore the earth's upper atmosphere.

This was announced Thursday by the National Academy of Sciences in discussing the U.S. program for International Geophysical Cooperation-1959.

IGC-59 is a continuation of the International Geophysical Year program which was conducted in 1957-1958. The IGY, like it successor, was an international cooperative effort to find out more about the earth and its surroundings.

Widow Spared Electric Chair

ATLANTA (AP)—A state sanity commission Thursday spared poison murderess Anjette Donovan Lyles from the electric chair. She accepted the news stoically in her jail cell at Macon, Ga.

The commission informed Gov. Ernest Vandiver that the 33-year-old widow is "psychotic and insane." The governor moved immediately to have her committed to the State Mental Hospital at Milledgeville.

She will spend the rest of her life there unless she regains her sanity, which would again place her in the shadow of the electric chair.

A Bibb County Superior Court jury one year ago this month convicted Mrs. Lyles of murdering her 9-year-old daughter with arsenic. She is still charged with murdering two former husbands and her first mother-in-law the same way.

The sanity commission was about her last hope of escaping the death penalty. Her conviction had been upheld by the State Supreme court.

Boy Admits Setting Fire To D.C. School

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 13-year-old 7th grader at Hine Junior High School was charged by police Thursday with setting a fire at the school Tuesday that imperiled 750 students and caused $12,000 damage.

Police said he admitted involvement after more than four hours of questioning when confronted by a classmate who said he watched him touch a cigaret lighter to a sheaf of school papers near the building's unused third floor auditorium.

House Group Plans California Red Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities announced Thursday it will investigate Communist Party activities in southern California at public hearings in Los Angeles starting next Tuesday.

Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said the committee will not look into Communists in the teaching profession. It scheduled such hearings earlier this year but cancelled them and turned its information over to local school boards.

Barry Fitzgerald Undergoes Surgery

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Barry Fitzgerald, whimsical Irish star of Hollywood movies, underwent a successful brain operation in a Dublin hospital Thursday.

Friends said the 71-year-old actor still is gravely ill but out of immediate danger. The surgery followed an examination for a possible brain tumor.

His best-known Hollywood success was "Going My Way," in which he costarred with Bing Crosby. He came home from Hollywood for a vacation last May.

Two U.S. Scientists Win Nobel Prize In Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1959 Nobel Prize in medicine was awarded Thursday to two American scientists who have synthesized two basic chemicals of life in research on heredity.

Dr. Severo Ochoa, 54, of New York University's College of Medicine, and Dr. Arthur Kornberg, 41, of Stanford University, Stanford, Calif., will share $42,606 in cash.

In Stanford, Dr. Kornberg received the news with a cheerful "O.K." and said he planned to go to Stockholm in December to accept.

"It's one of those things—it shouldn't change anything," he said.

In New York, Dr. Ochoa, a naturalized American born in Luarca, Spain, smiled happily at congratulations of a host of colleagues, students and friends.

Sipping champagne from a paper cup, he said: "It is a very great honor, something very good to happen to a scientist."

Physicians who chose to work in biochemistry, the two created the nucleic acids DNA and RNA. Nucleic acids derive their name from the cell nucleus, the basic component of living things.

DNA is the scientific nickname for DesoxyriboNucleic Acid, a substance which holds the secrets of such inherited characteristics as race, height, the color of eyes. Dr. Kornberg has specialized in this field.

RNA stands for RiboNucleic Acid, which takes part in the production of proteins. That has claimed the attention of Dr. Ochoa.

West, Soviet To Insulate Antarctic From Cold War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia agreed with the United States and 10 other Western powers Thursday to keep the last uncharted continent — ice-locked Antarctica—free from military bases and open to peaceful scientific development.

The pledge to insulate the vast South Pole natural laboratory from cold war tensions came at the opening of a 12-nation conference called to tackle the delicate job of writing a treaty for Antarctica.

While opening speeches echoed a unanimous accord for U.S. proposals aimed at peaceful settlement of complex territory claims, there were signs of trouble ahead when delegates start trying to spell out legal terms to make the treaty ideal a reality.

Soviet delegate Vasili V. Kuznetsov, in his call for a demilitarization pact, made no reference to a control system which this country and other delegate nations consider essential to any agreement.

The Soviet delegate, however, endorsed the U.S.-backed plan to guarantee that Antarctica be used for "peaceful purposes only"—the same words used in an earlier speech by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Kuznetsov linked his remarks on peace to the theme sounded by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev on his U.S. tour last month. This was the first time since the Eisenhower - Khrushchev talks that Russia has negotiated with the free world.

Wife's Story Accepted

LONDON (AP)—Solomon Reiterbund, 39, a tailor, told a court Thursday his wife refused to wear her wedding ring. He asked for a divorce on cruelty grounds. Judge Sir Hubert Wallington rejected his petition, saying he preferred to believe the wife's testimony that her finger became so fat the ring burst and got lost.

Death Of Tot Denied Medical Aid Raises Questions For Court

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A couple who said their religion prevented them from taking their sick, infant child to a doctor was pictured in the Court of Appeals Thursday as "law-abiding citizens who love their children."

"They should not carry the stigma of child-slayers," their attorneys said.

Ollen O. Craig, 35-year-old Hagerstown contractor and the father of five living children, and his wife, Lillian, appealed to the high court to reverse their manslaughter convictions in the death of their 5-month-old daughter, Elaine.

The child died last Nov. 25 of pneumonia.

Craig and his wife, members of the Church of God sect, were fined $500 each. He also was sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction.

Both appeared in court Thursday, watching intently the proceedings. He is free on bail pending outcome of the appeal.

The case raised numerous questions for the court, among them:

1. Does the law specifically say parents must provide medical care for their children?

2. If so, at what point during an illness?

3. Would medical care, and at what stage during the Craig child's 18-day illness, have saved her from dying?

4. Is prayer a legally accepted substitute for medical care?

5. Should the Church of God sect be covered by special provisions in Maryland law dealing with Christian Scientists, who are permitted through licensed practitioners to rely on God in healing?

6. Should these provisions, even for Christian Scientists, cover children who are unable to determine for themselves whether faith alone should be relied upon.

7. Does the constitutional guarantee of religious freedom permit the Craigs to rely alone on faith, or is this freedom not absolute, as the Supreme Court has ruled in outlawing polygamy among the Mormons?

The state and the attorneys for the couple also disagreed on whether gross negligence on the part of the Craigs had been proved. Gross negligence is necessary for an involuntary manslaughter conviction in Maryland.

FLYNN'S LAST MOVIE—Errol Flynn, who died of a heart attack in Vancouver, B. C., is shown in a scene with 17-year-old Beverly Aadland from "Cuban Rebel Girls," the actor's last motion picture. # Man Jailed In 1937 For Murder He Says Another Committed Wins Parole

THOMASTON, Maine (AP) — Paul N. Dwyer, central figure for 22 years in Maine's most bizarre murder case, won a parole Thursday—but not immediate freedom.

After an interview with the scholarly-appearing lifer in the State Prison here, the State Parole Board voted to release Dwyer when the board's conditions "have been met in full."

Chairman Maynard C. Dolloff said it is impossible now to set a release date.

Dwyer was jailed for a crime he claims was committed by another person. Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll, now dead, also was convicted of the strangling and bludgeoning of Dr. James G. Littlefield at South Paris Oct. 13, 1937. But Carroll, who had been Dwyer's jailer while the slight teen-ager was awaiting trial, won freedom in 1950 on grounds he didn't have a fair trial. He died three years ago.

The Carroll-Dwyer case "broke" 22 years ago Friday in North Arlington, N.J.

Dwyer was found asleep in a parked car which also contained the bodies of Dr. Littlefield and his wife, Lydia.

On the third day of his trial for murdering the doctor, Dwyer changed his plea from innocent to guilty.

Months later Carroll was indicted and convicted—largely on Dwyer's testimony. Dwyer claimed he had taken the blame in fear of bodily harm from Carroll. He said the motive for Carroll's crime was Dr. Littlefield's knowledge of Carroll's alleged incest with his daughter.

Flynn Girl Friend Show Business Veteran At 17

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Who is Beverly Aadland, the shapely teen-age blonde Errol Flynn called his protege?

She's a show business veteran, even though she's not old enough to vote.

Flynn met her two years ago. She was 15, and dancing in a movie at Warner Bros. He asked her to appear with him in "Too Much Too Soon," the life of Diane Barrymore.

"Since that time I have seen Beverly a total of only two weeks," says her mother, Florence Aadland. "They went first to Africa and then to Cuba for movies."

"Errol told me last week before they left for Vancouver that my daughter was the only one he really loved. It'll take Beverly a year to get over it, she loved him so much."

Miss Aadland was at Flynn's side when he died in Vancouver Wednesday night of a heart attack.

Prior to meeting the swashbuckling actor, Miss Aadland had many minor tastes of entertainment life.

"By the time she was 2 years old, Beverly was singing at a veteran's hospital in West Los Angeles," said her mother.

At 6 months, she was picked as an advertising model for a soap company. She was Little Miss America at 13. A short time later she got a chance as a dancer in Las Vegas. A year before meeting Flynn, she danced in the movie version of "South Pacific."

Mrs. Aadland sobbed: "My baby is coming back with the body. If Pat Wymore—Flynn's estranged wife—wants to go to Vancouver she can, but my baby will bring the body back. She and I will be first at the funeral, too."

The gnawing teeth of beavers keep growing year after year and this persistent growth takes care of the wear on the teeth.

U. S. News Hungry

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans shelled out almost three billion dollars last year to meet a growing appetite for reading matter, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. reported Thursday. Half the total was spent on daily and Sunday newspapers, according to figures compiled by the association's Bureau of Advertising. The rest was split about evenly between books and magazines.

Teen-Ager Jailed For Carrying Razor

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) —A Brentwood teen-ager was jailed for six months Thursday, less than 12 hours after he was arrested for carrying a razor to a scheduled gang fight that never came off.

Judge William H. McGrath of Upper Marlboro Police Court imposed sentence on Joseph Quarles, 18, who was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

"You can pass the word along to the others that they'll get the same treatment from me," McGrath told Quarles.

Quarles was arrested early Thursday at Vista when a policeman broke up an assembly of about 25 youths. Others in the group escaped.

Largest number of states admitted to the Union was during the administration of Benjamin Harrison.

ANNOUNCING THE NEW PLYMOUTH!

SOLID FOR '60! AT YOUR DEALER'S NOW!

BUILT A NEW SOLID WAY TO GIVE YOU SOLID SATISFACTION

CHRYSLER ENGINEERING INTRODUCES A NEW KIND OF PLYMOUTH THAT MARKS A MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH IN CAR DESIGN. BODY AND FRAME UNIT ARE WELDED TOGETHER AS ONE, IN A NEW WAY. MANY PARTS THAT WORK LOOSE, RATTLE AND NEED FIXING IN ORDINARY CARS ARE ELIMINATED. THIS LOW-PRICE '60 PLYMOUTH IS STRONGER AND ROOMIER. IT USES LESS GAS THAN BEFORE. IT RIDES MORE COMFORTABLY, WE BELIEVE, THAN ANY OTHER CAR IN ITS CLASS.

PLYMOUTH'S NEW DURA-QUIET UNIBODY is a rigidly-formed structure, locked by approximately 5400 precise welds. It has no conventional body bolts, braces, struts or stays to give trouble. Road noises and road shocks are dampened. Even the sound of the wind is hushed.

We doubt if any car at any price has ever ridden or handled as well as this low-price automobile. Practical Stabilizer Design, incorporating rear stabilizer fins, adds stability on the road, cuts wind resistance, gives better gas mileage.

The new Solid Plymouth is a young, exciting car with ten full years of Chrysler Corporation development behind it. It will suit you particularly if you want a feeling of quality and a sense of craftsmanship. It is built carefully and precisely. We believe there is no other car in the low-price field that resembles it.

AN ALL-NEW INCLINED OVERHEAD VALVE "6" IS AMONG FIVE PLYMOUTH ENGINE OPTIONS FOR 1960. The first inclined engine ever in an American passenger car is the new Plymouth 30-D Economy Six, most powerful "6" in America. Very economical, it is inclined to make servicing simpler, to lower the car's center of gravity and to make handling and riding easier. Also available to you for 1960: the limited-production *SonoRamic Commando V-8.

SOLID PLYMOUTH 1960 OFFERS FEATURES NO OTHER CAR IN ITS CLASS CAN OFFER. Custom-Positioned Front Seat. Safe-T-Matic doorlocking system. RCA "45" Record Player. And many more.

Motherwell's Attorney Balks At Procedure

WASHINGTON (AP)—An attorney for Larry Lord Motherwell, held in the death of an elderly Washington woman, charged Thursday that a California prosecutor has violated an agreement on the handling of Motherwell's case.

The lawyer, John T. Reges, said Sierra County (Calif.) Prosecutor Gordon I. Smith had agreed that the case would be handled in a preliminary hearing instead of being presented to a grand jury.

Smith informed Reges Wednesday that the Motherwell case would go to a grand jury. Smith had said earlier that the preliminary hearing would be the least expensive manner of handling it.

Reges said he intended to show up for a preliminary hearing anyway on Oct. 26 in Sierraville, Calif., in accordance with his earlier agreement with Smith. He said he would move to dismiss the case then if no county representative is present.

Motherwell is charged in the death of Mrs. Pearl Putney, a 72-year-old widow last seen leaving a motel in Marysville, Calif., with Motherwell. Her bones were found in a desolate area of Sierra County Aug. 16.

There has been no trace of some $50,000 in cash and securities she was believed to be carrying.

Woman State's 413th 1959 Traffic Fatality

POCOMOKE CITY, Md. (AP)—Mrs. Eunice Pugh, 33, of Miami, Fla., was killed Wednesday night in an auto accident near here, the 413th traffic fatality in Maryland this year.

State Trooper E.E. Lewis said the woman suffered a broken neck when the car she was driving went out of control on U.S. 13 and hit a truck operated by Levine W. White, 27, of Parksley, Va.

Her husband, Cleveland Pugh, 29, suffered concussion and face cuts. White was not injured.

Seven out of 10 persons are right-eyed for sighting a gun.

Baltimore Narcotics Ring Smashed; Eight Arrested

BALTIMORE (AP)—Eight men and women, one described as the "biggest peddler in Baltimore," have been arrested on narcotic charges by city and federal agents after an investigation which began seven months ago.

The eight were charged Thursday with illegal possesion and sale of drugs.

The key man in the ring, police said, was William A. Stanford, 34, Negro, who was selling dope at wholesale or for half what it would cost on the street.

"This man is the biggest peddler of heroin in Baltimore City, Capt. Joseph Carroll of the City Narcotics Bureau said. "He sells at wholesale prices and we have been waiting for him for a long time."

Police said they picked up hundreds of capsules of heroin and hundreds of marihuana cigarets in purchases dating as far back as April.

The last seizure was made Wednesday when police found two bags of marihuana at a home.

Besides Stanford the others charged include Mrs. Annie Johnson, 29; Raymond Green, 26; Robert Lee Mack, 39; Emanuel Dennis Brown, 24; Daniel Sherman Jarvis, 24; William M. Cannon, 23, and Juanita Brown, 21, all Negroes.

Johnston Calls For More U.S. Aid To Schools

BALTIMORE (AP)—Support of the nation's schools on the federal level "has been most derelict, most delinquent and most defunct" and the situation should be corrected immediately, the Maryland State Teachers Assn. was told Thursday.

Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn., criticized the part the federal government has played in education at the teachers annual convention.

Johnston declared that federal aid is urgently needed to solve the nation's school problems. Public education, he said, is as necessary as public health.

"If anyone proposed cutting down on public health expenditures on the theory that a little typhus or a little cholera among our youth wouldn't harm us too much, we would react to the shock," he said.

"I think we need the same sense of shock at the theory that we can afford to lose a generation of human resources on the specious reason that we can't afford to pay to educate and develop them," Johnston added.

Johnston said the problem of a shortage of teachers can be met only "by dramatic elevation of the role of the teacher in our society—the reestablishment of this noblest profession in prestige, as well as in money, the reestablishment of teaching as a service no less important to the American people than any government or private service."

Milson C. Raver, executive secretary of the teachers' organization, used a general assembly meeting to rap a Maryland General Assembly committee for urging that the State's surplus funds be put aside for a "rainy day."

Raver said the committee recommendation might be "smart politics" but "it isn't the way to get quality educators."

The teachers association is pushing a two-year program which includes a $4,000 minimum pay for teachers with bachelor degrees. The plan would cost about 15 million dollars annually.

Officials predicted a registration of more than 17,000 teachers for the three-day conference.

Mayor J. Harold Grady of Baltimore and Dr. George Wendt, scientist and author, will address the convention Friday morning.

Phone Cable KO'd

SHARPSBURG, Md. (AP) — A telephone trunk cable servicing the Martinsburg W. Va. area was put out of commission for about six hours early Thursday by an automobile fire.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. said the fire broke out in the car parked in a private garage. The flames damaged the cable overhead.

Slumbercoach Service Expanded

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio said Thursday it will cooperate with the Missouri Pacific Railroad to provide through-car Slumbercoach service between the East and San Antonio, Tex.

Slumbercoaches are a new design of sleeping cars. They have 24 single rooms and eight double rooms, each with a bed, toilet facilities and luggage storage. Rates are coach fares plus a small extra charge.

The sleeping coaches now operating on the B&O's National Limited from Baltimore to St. Louis will be added to the Missouri Pacific's Texas Eagle for the run on on to San Antonio.

When pygmies of French West Africa bag an elephant, they move their village to the site of the carcass.

Apple Prices Steady; Demand Fair To Good

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—The Martinsburg field office of the Federal State Market News Service said Thursday that apple prices showed very little change this week, with the demand varying from fair to good.

Red Delicious remained the top seller, but there has been a recent increase in the demand for Red Staymans, Red Roses and Red Yorks. Sales of Jonathans have declined, and the variety is practically finished for the season.

Red Delicious in tray-pack cartons continue to show a wide range of prices, according to quality and condition. The highest price is $4.25 for Virginia Extra Fancy grades of 88s and larger.

Mr., Mrs. H. Harvey Hill Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. H. Harvey Hill, 233 Columbia Street, celebrated their wedding anniversary at a dinner party last evening at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

The former Miss Nellie Nesbitt, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Nesbitt, became the bride of Mr. Hill, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Hill, Cumberland, Thursday, October 14, 1909. The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the home of the bride's parents, Emily Street, with the late Rev. Edward Hayes, D. D., pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill are the parents of four sons, James Hill, Hagerstown; Charles Hill, Frostburg; Robert Hill and William Hill, Cumberland. They have eight grandchildren.

Mr. Hill has owned and operated Hill's Toy Store for the past 40 years. Prior to 1918, when he went into business for himself, he was employed by Schwarzenbach and Sons for 13 years. Mr. Hill is a member of the Masons, Shrine and Scottish Rite. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hill are members of Centre Street Methodist Church, where Mrs. Hill is a member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

A golden color scheme was used in the decorations for the celebration and repeated in the tiered anniversary cake.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nesbitt, Mrs. Ethel Dawson, brothers and sisters of Mrs. Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kerr, her niece and her husband, Rev. and Mrs. Carlton Harris and the grandchildren.

Harvest Festival To Be Nov. 29

The UNICEF party and Harvest Festival were planned and reports were made at the monthly meeting of the WSCS of Melvin Church. "Good News of Peace and Life" was the theme for the devotional service under the direction of Mrs. Helen Northcraft. Invocation was given by Mrs. Blanche Speir and Scripture was read by Mrs. Gladys May. Mrs. Northcraft had the meditation and talks were given by Mrs. Everett Yankie and Mrs. Eleanor DelaGrange.

Mrs. Speir presided at the business session and anonunced the annual fall meeting to be held at New Brunswick today and the trip to the UN building in New York City on November 5. Routine reports were by Mrs. Jane Fier and Mrs. Millie Alderton. Mrs. Charles Kennard reported on "World Banks" and Mrs. Robert Streett, that the society's missionary for this year is Miss Ellen Atkinson. Mrs. Gladys May anounced that the Week of Prayer and Self Denial will be observed October 28 at 7:30; Mrs. John McDonald, on the 25th anniversary coupon year for the Asbury Home. Mrs. Speir reported on the educational seminar held at Frostburg and Mrs. Kennard, on the zone meeting held at Cresaptown.

Plans were completed for the UNICEF party to be held October 30. Committee chairmen appointed were: refreshments, Mrs. Eleanor DelaGrange; group assignments, Mrs. Jane Fier; and recreation, Mrs. Speir and Miss Dorothy Streett. Plans were also formulated for the Harvet Festival to be held November 29 with Mrs. Kennard and Mrs. Robert Streett in charge of decorations. Next week apple butter will be made and sold by the group. During the social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Sidna Northcraft and Mrs. Hazel Rudolph.

With a score of 160 compared to an average of 130 for the 11½ tables, Mrs. Norman Taylor and Mrs. Lloyd Trimmier won the New-Partner championship of the Potomac Valley Bridge Club Tuesday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house.

Second place winners were Mrs. Roy Drum and Hugo Keller, with 157½; third, Mrs. Louise Waingold, Mrs. Emmett Jones, 154½; Mrs. Harvey Aronson, Mrs. Irvin Pariser, 154½; Lloyd Trimmier, Edgar J. Dawson, 144½; and Miss Loretto Hannon, A. J. Feigus, 142.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Alva W. Davis, 1003 Virginia Avenue, have returned from a month's vacation in California.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cook Sr., Bowling Green, have returned from a three-weeks trip to San Antonio, Texas, and Mexico City.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duckworth and Mrs. Mary Frame have returned to their home, Henderson Avenue, after visiting relatives in Camden, N.J., New York and Baltimore.

LaSalle Mothers Appoint Chairman For Activities

Parties were planned and chairmen were appointed by Mrs. Paul Schwenninger at the meeting of LaSalle Mothers Club Tuesday. A card party will be held November 3 at St. Michael's parish hall, Frostburg, at 8:15. Mrs. Joseph Barry is chairman with members from Piedmont, Keyser, Mt. Savage, Midland, Lonaconing and Westernport assisting. Mrs. Lawrence Barry has charge of the candy booth, with the other mothers as her asistants.

A skating party for students and friends will be sponsored by the mothers some time in December. The project of the year is to renovate a room in the faculty house. Work is to begin as soon as all bids are received.

The annual covered dish supper to be held December 13 at St. Patrick's social center will have Mrs. J. H. Stitcher as chairman. Mrs. Vincent Leasure and Mrs. Joseph Felton are in charge of the dining room; Mrs. Nevyln Boyer will have the candy booth and Mrs. Milton Kyhos, the doll booth.

Final plans for the annual Communion breakfast October 25, at St. Mary's Church, were completed. Mrs. Michael McDade was named chairman with Mrs. Glenn Kimberlin, Mrs. James Dentinger, Mrs. Robert Harper, Mrs. Ernest Wolford, Mrs. Paul Barrett and Mrs. Gerard Martin asisting. Mrs. Eugene Howell is in charge of the dining room with Mrs. Calvin Hudson, Mrs. William Hay and Mrs. Allan Fresh her assistants.

A ticket sale for the antique show, being sponsored by Mrs. Faye Stillwagon, was adopted. Half the proceeds of each ticket sold is to be returned to the club. The show will be held December 3, 4, 5, in SS. Peter and Paul parish hall.

Refreshments were served by the senior mothers with Mrs. Boyer in charge. Brother Brendan offered the opening and closing prayer.

Auxiliary 1125 Plans Sale, Tag Day, Takes Members

Auxiliary 1125 of World War I Barracks received two new members at the meeting Wednesday evening at the VFW home. Mrs. Chloe Reynolds presided, and welcomed Mrs. Amanda Robinette and Mrs. Idella Stevens, Frostburg. The auxiliary voted on two applications and they will be accepted at the next meeting, which will be held jointly with the Barracks November 4, because of the auxiliary date being on Veterans Day.

The auxiliary voted to sell fudge candy for rehabilitation work for the veterans. Mrs. Rosalie Everstine and Mrs. Ina Smith are chairmen. Mrs. Reynolds announced tag day will be held November 7. The Rainbow Girls and other sellers will assist, and be notified where to obtain the tags and containers.

Mrs. Everstine giving the convention report said that in 1958 the national membership was 22,091, with 672 auxiliaries and 29 departments; and in 1959, 34,056, with 996 auxiliaries and 37 departments. As of August 31, 1959 there are 1,970 barracks with a membership of 143,853. Routine reports were given and Mrs. Catherine Wilson said cards have been sent to all the ill, including several patients at Newton Baker and Mrs. Diana Fuller, who is ill at her home.

Concluding the meeting the auxiliary met with the men to complete plans for the barracks' second anniversary celebration November 21. It will begin with a dinner at 6:30 at the VFW home, followed by entertainment and music under the chairmanship of Mrs. Reynolds. Invitations were sent to all department officers of the barracks and auxiliaries.

A social hour followed. The prize was won by Mrs. Edith Castleman. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Josephine Shanski and her committee. Thirty members attended.

Visitation

The grand visitation of Grand Chapter officers will be made to McKinley Chapter 12, OES, today. The first session will be at 2 and the second at 8, following dinner at 6. The 58th anniversary of the chapter institution will be observed and past matrons and past patrons honored.

A "Ladder of Roses," honoring Mrs. Sara Gates and Glenn Haynes, worthy grand matron and patron, will be presented during the afternoon. Officers of the hostess chapter will present "Ladder of Fraternity" in the evening. A reception will conclude the program.

Local Women's GOP Club Program Is Commended

Mrs. Mary Hepburn, Rockville, national president of the Republican Women's Club, will make her first talk as head of the state federation at the meeting of the Cumberland club October 30, Mrs. Arthur A. Verner announces. Mrs. Henrietta Sinn, Sharpsburg, sixth district chairman, will accompany Mrs. Hepburn. Mrs. Abe Herman, Bethesda, campaign activities chairman for the Federation of Maryland, and vice chairman of the sixth district, will be the guest speaker at the annual May dinner. This month she and her husband are accompanying Senator Thruston Morton on the "party rejuvenating campaign."

At the Maryland federation meeting in Baltimore, Tuesday and Wednesday, Mrs. Sinn commended the Cumhberland club program. Mrs. Holmes Cessna, delegate, and Mrs. Verner attended the sessions. Mrs. Cessna will give her report at the meeting on the 30th.

The first of the series of "Games Night" parties will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Woman's Civic Club house. Players are to bring their own cards or games they wish to play. Mrs. Edgar Kendall is in charge of arrangements.

Theologians Denounce TV Quiz Rigging

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Life in the world today is cluttered with fakery. But rigging of television quiz contests, in the estimation of religious authorities, goes beyond the usual falsehoods and pretenses.

It's also seen as a stark manifestation of the sham of an age.

"Much modern hokum and exaggeration has become expected practice," says Protestant theologian Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, of Union Seminary. "But this is an extreme instance, and a shocking one."

Biblical teaching has much to say about truthfulness in addition to the commandment against bearing false witness. Scripture also admonishes: "Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor."

Yet in a time when hard fact often is embroidered or twisted to various purposes, the truth sometimes is obscured in the shuffle.

"Such activity leads to a cynical atmosphere," says Msgr. Joseph O'Brien, a Roman Catholic moral theologian. "It blurs people's ability to recognize truth, and some get so they don't believe it when they hear it."

There are, however, many commonly accepted deceptive devices, as in women's dyed hair or men's elevated shoes. Objectivity also gets a recognized beating in commercial puffs, campaign oratory, social courtesies.

"Even though there's a lot of misrepresentation, there's a difference in degree, and that makes a difference in kind," says Rabbi Dr. Robert Gordis, of Jewish Theological Seminary.

In other words, he says, there's a big distinction between "slight exaggerations" and "substantial distortion of the truth." He puts the rigging of TV quizzes in the latter category.

"It's highly reprehensible," he says. "It undermines fundamental ethics, betrays public trust and lends itself to the impression that as long as you can get away with it, anything goes."

"It was a perpetuation of a hoax on the American public," says the Rev. Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffman, of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

"It pretended to be honest, and wasn't. It curried credulity in order to deceive. In a climate like that, people will learn to expect anything and be led to believe everything is crooked and a fraud."

The theologians stress, however, that there is a big difference between parading deceit in the guise of honesty and the expected everyday dissembling that goes on in society.

"There's a certain dishonesty in all life," says Dr. Niebuhr. "It's part of the general human frailty. Ordinary social etiquette is full of little poses and white lies. It has gone on for centuries."

But this, it is pointed out, is a recognized usage. So are other wiles.

But with TV quizzes, they add, there was outright deliberate deception.

Famed Actress Gene Tierney, 37, Now Store Clerk

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Actress Gene Tierney was discovered Wednesday working as a sales clerk in a women's clothing shop, and her boss said "she's doing a beautiful job."

"Other clerks are fond of her and her relations with them are very harmonious," said D. L. Talmage.

Miss Tierney, 37, is an outpatient at the Menninger Foundation, a widely known psychiatric center where she spent eight months last year.

Talmage said he hired her about 10 days ago and understood the job is part of her therapy. He said she personally applied for the job.

The shop, employing 12 clerks, is at the edge of one of Topeka's more exclusive neighborhoods.

Miss Tierney would not give an interview, discuss her job or life in Topeka, or allow a picture to be taken. Talmage refused to disclose her salary.

Customers have been flustered at being waited on by the actress.

"I was so thrilled I didn't really know what I was buying," said one.

Gadget Makes Every Man Artist

LONDON (AP)—Every man his own artist.

Just put a coin in the slot, choose colors and wiggle electric switches with a heavy or light hand—as the mood may be.

The result is an abstact, haphazard picture, different from any picture ever made, and somehow pleasantly moving. It is you, or your soul, or the inside of your secret self.

The machines that do it were demonstrated here Wednesday at the Kaplan Art Gallery by their creator, 34-year-old Parisian artist Jean Tinguely.

Arms holding tubes of paint and crayons slash and splash on paper held on upright easels. They make zig-zags, circles, lines and angles and the only thing that is predictable about them is that they are unpredictable.

The complicated mechanism that controls the movement of the arms, powered by little motors, is deliberately eccentric so that it never does anything it did before.

Yet, somehow, a dainty lady at the switches makes a dainty abstract—just like her—and a muscular bruiser turns out a more robust abstract.

Tinguely claims Meta-Matics are happy machines with no discipline—really antimachine, because in an orthodox machine one expects uniformity, regularity and precision.

Tinguely has shown his machines in France, Switzerland, Germany and Sweden. About two dozen have been sold at prices from $280 to $2,800. Next January he takes them to New York.

Soviet Premier Praises Siberia As "Happy, Rich"

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev praised Siberia as a "happy and rich" place in a speech released Wednesday and said the word no longer frightens people.

Khrushchev was speaking to Siberians in Novosibirsk on Oct. 10. Radio Moscow reported the speech Wednesday.

"There was a time when the word Siberia was used to frighten not only the peoples of our country, but made the hearts of many other people in the world contract," he said.

"Now you Siberians have transformed your land, you have made it happy and rich. Nowadays one may say: 'He who has not been to Siberia has not seen the world.'"

Supply Chief

TOKYO (UPI) — The Communist radio announced Thursday that Gen. Chiu Hiu-Tso, a military technician virtually unknown in the west, has been appointed supply chief of Red China's Army. The Peiping broadcast gave no details beyond a routine announcement that President Liu Shao-Chi appointed Chiu "in accordance with a decision of the standing committee of the National People's Congress."

Contractor Seeks To Unseat Foley

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — James A. Buchanan IV, a Rockville building contractor, has filed for Republican nomination to Congress from Maryland's 6th District.

Buchanan posted a $100 filing fee with the secretary of state for the primary which is scheduled next May 16. He is the first Republican candidate for the Western Maryland seat now held by Democrat John R. Foley of Washington.

Unions Give Warning

TOKYO (UPI)—Leaders of ten labor unions warned the government Thursday union members would attempt to prevent the landing of the first sidewinder missiles bought from the United States when the weapons arrive here. A delegation led by representatives of the militant all-Japan dockworkers union called on Minister of State Munenori Akagi, director of the National Defense Agency, to protest the purchase of the missiles as "the first step toward nuclear armament."

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: My husband's ex-wife is a lush and she won't leave him alone. They are separated by 700 miles but apparently it's not enough.

She phones him at least twice a week COLLECT and rambles on and on about their two kids. She never has much to say except that they miss him something terrible and why doesn't he come home for a few days.

We both work so my husband can keep this boozer in bourbon and the kids in fancy clothes and voice lessons. She doesn't work but she has a Buick convertible and a sheared beaver coat. We ride the bus, and my coat is a smart tweed.

The phone bill in July was $67.70 and in August it was $74.20. Since I'm working and doing without things for his children I think it's unfair for his wife to soak us with outrageous phone bills. How about it? — BUSTED AND BOILING

DEAR B and B: A collect call can only be completed if someone accepts the charges — so don't blame HER, blame HIM.

Since you are working to help your husband foot the alimony and support bills you have a right to complain. It's unfair of him to sock the household with big bills for his ex's bourbon babbling.

DEAR ANN: I've been nominated by the girls in this office to write to you about a fellow employe.

We are a group of refined young women who have been brought up in decent homes. This one odd-ball is upsetting everyone.

First, let me tell you she's no kid — she's a grandmother, and the oldest woman in this office by 15 years.

Yesterday she walked in with a T shirt that had a picture of Mr. Magoo on the back. On it was printed MEMBER OF MR. MAGOO'S DRINKING TEAM. She must have got it in a gag shop. A few days ago she sat at her desk with a paper sack over her head. Friday she wore pedal pushers made out of mattress ticking.

What shall we do about this batty old dame? — MEMPHIS BELLES

DEAR BELLES: Six-year-old boys stand on their heads and turn handsprings to attract attention. This poor old dear isn't up to such antics so she wears gag shirts.

Perhaps if you gals gave this woman a little recognition it might help her to overcome that inferiority complex. Include her in your conversation and coffee breaks. It could do a world of good.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You are responsible for my boys not eating breakfast and I think you owe it to me to solve my problem since you created it.

In a recent article you said children should never be forced to eat. Now my stubborn mules just sit there, and say "You shouldn't force us to eat. Ann Landers said so." And off they go without breakfast.

How about getting me out of this? — BEAT MOM

DEAR BEAT: When I say don't force a child to eat I mean don't beg, plead, wring your hands, or shovel the food in if a child is unwell, upset or puts up a fuss about eating. The game your "mules" are playing is quite another thing. They are not upset or unwell. They're just contrary.

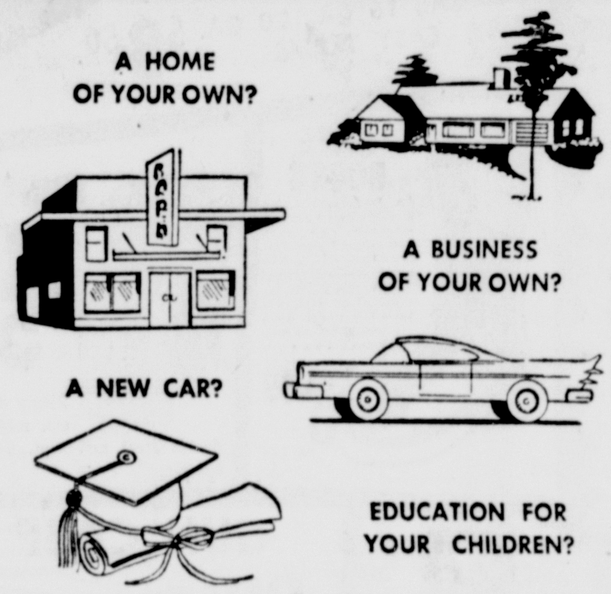

Tell them food is the fuel in the engine, and without fuel an engine can't run, can't play ball, ride a bike or ice-skate. I think they'll get the pitch.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — When Ingrid Bergman was in New York to film scenes for "Turn of the Screw," the Ford TV spectacular, Buddy Adler talked to her about starring in Terrence Rattigan's "O! Mistress Mine." Ingrid said she would like to do it and remembered the play.

So, probably by the time this is in my column, Ingrid will have signed for the motion picture version of the play which starred Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne on Broadway several years ago.

You may remember "O! Mistress Mine" has been a 20th Century-Fox property for sometime. I seem to remember it was originally bought for Deborah Kerr. I suppose it will be made in England, although Ingrid has said she has no objections to coming to Hollywood. She is now in Rome to pick up her three children and take them to her home outside Paris.

Had dinner at Larue with Maureen O'Sullivan and John Farrow, and I was shocked to hear that Samuel Bronston had notified John that he was not to direct "The Sword and the Cross." This story, originally called "The Son of Man," has been the project closest to John's heart, and he spent years perfecting it.

"I thought so much of my script that I put the story in the name of my children. I just signed a contract with Sam Bronston before I left London—not two weeks ago, and I don't know what this is all about," John told me. "Sam cannot say the story is in public domain, because he has my script for which he owes me money."

When George Cukor was in Vienna directing "Crescendo" (the Franz Liszt story), he met Sophia Loren who was there at the same time starring in "Olympia."

"So," says George, "we made an agreement that she and Spencer Tracy would co-star in 'The Kiss-Off,' a Garson Kanin original comedy. We will film it next spring in Rome and I believe Garson has changed the title to 'The Big Deal.' The story is about an older man who falls in love with a young girl. Then they both get sick of the idea and find romantic interests elsewhere."

The very first motion picture offer Anita Loos received for her smash hit play "Cheri," came from Josh Logan. Anita says that before she makes any deal she's going to ask for a healthy percentage of her "Cheri."

"We sold 'Gigi' for peanuts," she said. "We thought it was so censorable that it would never be made for motion pictures, and now that it's one of the most successful movies ever made, we all feel very unhappy we were paid so little."

Anita was just getting over the exciting first night and wonderful notices her play received. Kim Stanley, who stars in "Cheri" has been acclaimed as Broadway's newest favorite, and Horst Buchholz has had poems written to him by some of the New York critics.

This is a story that I am very happy to print. When Mary Frances Crosby, first Bing Crosby girl, is baptized today at the Church of the Good Shepherd, her own half-brother Lindsay, will be her Godfather. Lindsay has always been the only one of the Crosby boys, as far as I know, who sent his little sister a present. I know Lindsay very well, and he is a dear boy.

Much praise goes to Kathy (Mrs. C.) who has never let up trying to iron out the troubled situation between the boys and their father. Peace on earth, good will toward parents, boys.

I say — more power to tall, good-looking Bill Smith who, even though he is under contract to MGM and has just completed a good role in "Gazebo," works nights as the head parking attendant at the Bantam Cock! "My wife and I live on what I make at the parking lot" Bill admits proudly, "and we save my movie check against that proverbial rainy day."

Young Smith also attends acting school each morning on the MGM lot to learn as much about his profession as he can. He even told Debbie Reynolds and Glenn Ford (stars of "Gazebo") he isn't a bit too proud to park their cars if they roll into the Bantam although he's getting the up-and-coming young actor treatment in their movie.

Opening lead: King of ♥.

Even when nature seems to have stacked the cards against declarer, an occasional contract may be salvaged if declarer acts promptly and with apparent confidence. South's problem revolved around the best way to set up a smoke screen against East.

The contract of three no trump was reached on natural methods. West opened the king of spades and South, naturally, won with the ace so that the jack of spades was promoted to a subsequent winner in the suit. In plain sight are five tricks in the major suits, so that the minor suits must yield four fast tricks if South is to complete his assignment.

There are, of course, six potential tricks in clubs and diamonds. Unfortunately, neither one can itself produce more than three tricks so that it becomes plain that both suits must be manipulated. If declarer can steal a trick in one suit he can, by shifting at once to the other, set up sufficient tricks to bring home the contract.

Declarer decided that the most likely "sneak" lay in the diamond suit. So he entered dummy with the king of hearts and led a diamond. East reflexively played second hand low and when the king held declarer was home. He promptly played the queen of clubs. East won and returned a spade which dummy was permitted to win with the jack, since West did not have an entry of his own after the suit was set up. But declarer had nine tricks—two spades, three hearts, one diamond, and three clubs.

We must point out that East's defense was not inspired. He must rush in to win a trick at the earliest opportunity in order to set up partner's suit. When the low diamond is led off dummy East should lose no time in winning with the ace. The spade is returned and West ducks. Declarer is now in position to run only eight tricks — two spades, three hearts, and three diamonds. As soon as he attacks the club suit East wins with the ace and returns a spade for West to cash the setting tricks.

City, State Police Learn To Operate Driving Device

Two members of the City Police Department and three members of the State Police detachment at the LaVale barracks attended a training session Wednesday in Pikesville on the use of a device which will be used in dealing with drunken drivers.

Attending the demonstration at the State Police headquarters were Patrolmen John S. Chaney and W. Elmer Shank of the City Police, and Lt. W. E. O'Hara, barracks commander, Tfc. R. D. Henline and Trooper W. E. Foreman of the LaVale detachment.

The device demonstrated was the Breathalyzer, which analyzes the alcoholic content of the blood by having a driver blow into a plastic tube. The state and Baltimore City are purchasing a number of the machines for $650 each.

Lt. O'Hara said every State Police barracks in Maryland will be assigned one of the devices between now and next July, depending on budget expenditures. After one arrives at the local barracks, he continued, Tfc Henline and Trooper Foreman will instruct all other State Police personnel in the use of the device.

More than 100 policemen from all sections of the state attended the demonstration, Lt. O'Hara said, adding that three of the officers agreed to serve as "guinea pigs" for the tests.

Lt. Hugh Kavanaugh volunteered and downed 13 ounces of 86-proof whisky. Sgt. Preston Rowland quaffed eight bottles of beer. The third volunteer, Sgt. Lemuel Porter, took 10 ounces of whisky.

How did it affect them? None of the officers fell on his face, but all giggled and performed the simplest task somewhat clumsily.

The Breathalyzer showed there was .16 per cent of alcohol in Lt. Kavanaugh's blood, .13 per cent in Sgt. Rowland's and .14 per cent in Sgt. Porter's.

Under standards set by the American Medical Assn. and the National Safety Council, the lieutenant would be in real trouble while both sergeants would have some explaining to do before a magistrate. The medical association and safety council say anyone with .15 per cent of alcohol in his blood is unfit to drive.

Col. Carey Jarman, superintendent of State Police, said the new device is "no panacea" for the drinking driver problem.

"However, it is a distinct help," he said. "It is a tool in the hands of enforcement agencies."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Clayton A. Dietrich described the device as "a double-edged sword" which would corroborate the policeman's testimony and also undermine the position of the defense.

Discusses Peace

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. Information Agency Director George V. Allen said Thursday there still would be "very serious danger of conflict" even if the Soviet Union were a Jeffersonian or Lincolnian democracy. Peace must rest on the rule of law, not necessarily on solving ideological differences, Allen told the New York chapter of the Public Relations Society of America.

PLAYS JUDGE ROLE—John Mace will portray "Judge Omar Gaffney" in "Harvey" which will be presented by the Algonquin Players October 24, 25 and 26 in Carroll Hall. He has been in many stage crews and was also seen on the stage in the players' "The Tender Trap."

Church Plans Rally Day

Calvary Methodist Church will observe Layman's Day Sunday, according to Rev. Harold L. May, pastor, who said the Sunday School will hold its annual Rally Day program that morning.

The Rally Day program will be held in the church sanctuary at 10 a. m., with the various classes participating in the program. Attendance awards will be distributed, the pastor said.

Laymen of the church will be in charge of the 11 a. m. worship service. The speaker will be B. U. Smith, general secretary of Central YMCA, Cumberland. Also participating will be James Perry and O. B. Logsdon.

Rev. Mr. May said a fun night will be held Monday at 6:30 p. m. at the church in connection with the Rally Day observance, explaining that it is being held in the hope of increasing Sunday School membership and attendance.

Pony rides and refreshments will feature the Fun Night, the pastor said.

Lonaconing Man Feted On Birthday

LONACONING — William Albright was recently honored on his 62nd birthday at a party at his home on Watercliffe.

The birthday party was given by his sisters, Mrs. Frank Buskirk Sr., Mrs. Effie Sears and Mrs. Leonard Lease.

Those who attended were Mrs. William Albright, Mrs. James Dunn Jr., Mrs. Norman Lease, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Maynord Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stewart of Philadelphia, Mrs. George Hutcheson of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fatkin, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shearer, and daughter, Susie, Mrs. Carol Evans, Mrs. Joan Buskirk, William Fitzpatrick, John Wells, Phil Lease and David Fatkin.

Industrialist Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elliott White Springs, of Fort Mill, S.C., president of the Springs Cotton Mills and Springs Mills, Inc., died early Thursday of cancer at Memorial Hospital. Springs, 63, achieved distinction as a flyer in World War I and as an author. He headed a number of other firms in addition to his mills, among them the Bank of Lancaster and the Kanawha Insurance Co., both of Lancaster, S.C.

Animal feeds that attract purchasers don't necessarily appeal to people's pets or livestock.

Predicts Increases

DETROIT (UPI) — Undersecretary of Commerce John J. Allen predicted Thursday that U.S. seaports and transportation facilities "will experience substantial volume increases" in the near future. The transportation expert said that despite general losses in traffic at seaports due to the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, U.S. facilities would show economic growth because of heavy population increases.

The car of your life for the time of your life!

There have never been so many new advances . . . in any single year . . . as there are in the new Chrysler for 1960.

New Ideas in Styling. Bold, strong grille. Graceful rear deck. Clean lines sheathed in Lustre-Bond . . . the hardest automotive finish known.

New Ideas in Convenience. Chrysler offers automatic Swivel Seats . . . pushbutton controls. Three-dimensional AstraDome houses instruments.

New Ideas in Comfort. The driver's seat has been raised . . . padded with extra foam rubber. There's more leg, knee, hip and head room.

New Ideas in Reliability. Body and frame are built as a single, rattle-free Unibody. Stronger, quieter, roomier. A new dipping process locks rust out of vital areas.

Get touching close to this new Chrysler soon. Compare its fresh beauty with other cars. See how Chrysler has actually built in more room while other cars continue to be cramped. Then take it out on the road and have the time of your life!

New AstraDome Control Center. Three-dimensional dome projects instruments toward the driver . . . makes them easy to read. At night, new Panelescent lighting gives reflection-free illumination.

This new Swivel Seat is Automatic. Open the door and the seat swings out to greet you automatically! When you leave the car it automatically swings inside. Chrysler's High-Tower seat adds driver comfort.

What's Happened To U.S. Fiction?

Americans are demanding a different kind of books these days, declares a leading librarian who should know. He is Emerson Greenaway, director of the Free Library of Philadelphia.

"There has been a sharp change in the reading tastes of Americans everywhere," he says. And he notes that in Philly his libraries circulate more non-fiction than fiction, adding that he is convinced in the next 10 years non-fiction will gain more adherents.

Greenaway credits this change of interests and habits to the development of an excellent library program for GIs in World War II, to the program of veterans' post-war education and to the need for non-fiction for those engaged at home in production of material for the war effort.

Without discrediting these reasons, it is possible to ask whether there are some others that deserve more credit. Many question whether experience in wartime really did much to change Americans for the better. The picture of the GI reading comic books in the squadroom was more typical than his poring over a book of philosophy.

What about the dearth of good fiction in the last 15 or 20 years? A number of the older writers who made their first marks in the 1920s and the 1930s still are producing, but outstanding novels have been few and far between. And few top notch young novelists have developed.

Besides this has been the very temper of the times. In the midst of a world where real-life happenings are so dramatic and unbelievable (space flight, for instance), who bothers with reading fiction?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Of Temporary Importance

It does happen that some persons become temporarily important. Politicians, actors, singers, murderers, gangsters—all sorts of persons achieve the state of appearing to be important for a few years. Then, of course, they, like the rest of us, subside in the dust of oblivion which is, indeed, irksome.

The immediate problem is whether to have or not to have a modern, fancy self-operated elevator and the agitation becomes frenzied. Some important ones are fearful that an unattended elevator will be an invitation for criminals to bop them over their heads and steal their jewels. Of course, the criminals can do the same if the elevator is attended, because nowadays with full employment and nobody hungry, the ablest men go where the money flows more freely. Running an elevator in an apartment house is not the most inviting job, particularly if the tenants are slow to tip.

In fact, tipping is a big issue in such matters. It is a fundamental, sanctified custom from which one departs at his peril. In the old days, it used to be said that an untipped waiter put his thumb in the soup when the cutsomer came again, but nowadays, we do not eat much soup, except out of cans at home to save the labor of a wife. But a clever waiter can always get even, like spilling a sauce on a customer's suit or giving him a table near the kitchen door, or refusing him a table altogether.

Everybody expects a tip and those who, even around Christmas time, forget the customs of civilization, will know it. So, competent, polite, attentive, energetic, valise-carrying elevator men prefer to go where the reputation is that the tips are generous and often. Those who complain loudest about the service they get are usually the least tippers, if at all.

Now I am not absolutely positive that an automatic elevator is best for children, certainly not for children reared by progressive parents who spare the child and ruin its manners. Such children will go up and down and play in an elevator as though it were a toy and there would be no one about to spank them. Unless a child is spanked, he never believes that what he is doing is wrong, children not knowing right from wrong until they are told and the right is enforced by drastic means.

The wickedest of improperly reared children can be a menace in such an elevator, but a good, strong spanking can save such a child from delinquency.

However, as old-age pensions and other welfare provisions become increasingly devastating in our world, more and more jobs will become unfillable. It is like trained cooks who are disappearing altogether from the domestic market, or those who are willing to take such jobs stipulate conditions which make it easier for the housewife to provide her own indigestion. Therefore, we might as well take our automatic elevators in good grace as something about as inevitable as the electric light and the sewing machine.

Our standard of living rises, but it is not being sustained by what used to be called, "help." The "help" want their standards of life to rise, too, and they object to doing the menial jobs upon which a society of ease must rest. Besides, they have become very expensive. And so, willy-nilly we shall have automatic, self-service elevators and the progressive brats will have to be spanked for their misuse or they will probably be killed. A spanking can save their lives. It has been known to be very good for the soul. If the children cannot be cured, perhaps the parents can be.

The temporarily important persons fear being mugged or robbed or kidnapped by those who are jealous of their temporary success in life. Only those who have no successful ancestors fear the consequences of good fortune. Those with ancestors know that nothing is permanent and least of all, wealth which rolls away and is lost in a few generations. Even the names of the Four Hundred are forgotten in this era of Cafe Society when headwaiters determine who is significant and rates a preferred table. The great names of yesteryear hardly carry a decibel. Today's notorious become tomorrow's ordinary and celebrities rarely outlive their press agents.

That some become temporary celebrities is what is so often called democracy, which it is not. What it amounts to is that among free men the quality of human beings is not measured by some advantage of style but by permanent contributions, as, for instance, the genius of Benjamin Franklin or the nobility of Abraham Lincoln whose mother was surely not of the moneyed aristocracy. But the truly great require no privilege; they are chosen.

'You Tryin' To Put Me Out Of Business?'

Steel Executives Are Split Over Whether To Settle Strike Now

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Steel executives aren't advertising it, but there's some secret dissension in their ranks regarding a strike settlement. Some of them believe it would be much more economical to settle now even if it's a partial surrender to the steel union.

In this category are Kaiser Steel at Fontana, Calif., and Jones and Laughlin near Pittsburgh.

White House observers who have been asked to report on the strike's alarming economic repercussions, say that Kaiser has one of the most modern plants in the USA, is paying a heavy carrying charge on its borrowed money, is not anti-labor, and was dragged into the strike against its better judgment.

Jones and Laughlin is reported as feeling it's better to get a settlement now rather than after the 80-day Taft-Hartley work resumption because it takes time and money to open and close the plants, also because expensive machinery might get cracked up by men who are now in no mood to be as careful as before.

Some of the younger steel executives feel that labor's backbone has stiffened, and it will cost more to get a settlement today than last summer. They believe Roger Blough, tough top executive of giant U. S. Steel, has been unwise in ignoring this.

Note — Wonder what the public reaction would have been had Ike spent a week golfing in California with Walter Reuther just before trying to settle an important labor dispute? He spent a week as the guest of George Allen, an influential director of Republic Steel, just before moving to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act against labor.

Why Van Doren Was Called

Chairman Oren Harris of Arkansas, a Baptist, went to church toward the end of his investigation of rigged TV programs. Three women came up to him separately, and each said:

"Oh, please don't investigate Mr. Charles Van Doren. He's such a nice man."

Patiently, Congressman Harris explained that he had not subpoenaed any quiz contestants to appear before his investigating committee; all had volunteered. However, Mr. Van Doren had gratuitously stuck his nose into the probe by sending a telegram that he had never received any coaching on the spectacular quiz program "21," now shown to have been rigged. Since Van Doren had taken the initiative, it was necessary for the committee to get the truth.

Harris did not tell the church ladies this, but his committee debated long and carefully behind closed doors before issuing a subpoena for Van Doren. They had received indications from Van Doren's friends that he might have a breakdown if faced with the humiliation of a public refutation of the spectacular days when he was headlined as the most learned young man in the USA. However, other witnesses who previously had lied were subpoenaed and the committee decided that no exception could be made, regardless of Van Doren's family background.

"We subpoenaed one man who was a member of a labor union," Chairman Harris told his committee. "We can't exempt a professor merely because he comes from the ranks of academicians."

Other Congressmen agreed.

Lady Spills Halleck's Beans

When Republican leader Charlie Halleck of Indiana arranged his efficient, highly secret coalition between southern Democrats and Republicans, he didn't expect the Democrats to talk about it. Charlie kept insisting to the very end that such a coalition didn't exist.

Now Democratic Congresswoman Iris Blitch of Georgia, the lady who paid herself $100 a month rent for office space at the expense of the taxpayers but didn't even list the address of her office, has indiscreetly spilled the beans.

In a letter to her Georgia constituents Mrs. Blitch did what almost no other Democrat has done — she publicly praised the Republicans.

"The badly reduced Republican minority under new leadership," she said, referring to Halleck, "did a very creditable job. They seemed to realize at last that if they are to continue to exist as a party, they cannot do it by aping the extreme left wing of the Democratic party.

"The President decided to be President after six years in office," continued Mrs. Blitch, in direct opposition to such important Democratic leaders as Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, a fellow southerner. "For the first time he gave some leadership to the country."

Note — Last week Senator Johnson threw aside his five-year precedent against going on TV panel shows in order to refute publicly the Republican contention that Ike showed leadership with the 86th Congress.

Washington Pipeline

Governor Faubus of Arkansas may have given Sen. Stuart Symington the kiss of death as a presidential candidate. Faubus, at the Southern Governors Conference at Asheville, came out emphatically for Symington. . . . Gov. John Patterson of Alabama stuck to his guns and came out for Sen Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, the only southern governor to do so. . . . After Symington gave a stirring speech before the Alabama League of Municipalities, ex-Governor "Kissin' Jim" Folsom of Alabama told the Missouri solon: "I'm for you for president. I'm for you or anyone from Missouri — you or Harry — but I don't want you running for governor of Alabama. I could never get elected again." . . . The "Big Mules" in Alabama are delighted with Sen. Lister Hill, the onetime liberal. They are telling each other that Lister has now swung to the right. . . . One man who saw the phoniness of quiz shows two years ago is Fred Christopherson, editor of the Sioux Falls (S.D.) Argus-Leader. As early as February 1957 Christopherson wrote: "No man can know so much."

Soviet's Cold War Objectives Unchanged

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Nikita Khrushchev has just made a confession of the international crime the Soviet government committed in Hungary. He probably did it unwittingly. For he never has completely understood the case that the free world has been making against Communism as an international conspiracy. The confession about Hungary is in an excerpt from the speech which the Soviet premier made last week in a Siberian city as released in the last three days by the official news agency in Moscow:

"When the forces of counter-revolution in Hungary attempted to overthrow the popular system, we considered it our international duty to satisfy the request of the revolutionary workers' and peasants' government of Hungary to help the Hungarian working class, to smash the counterrevolution."

To understand the full significance of this utterance, it is necessary to be sure what is meant by the term "counterrevolution" and "the popular system." Hungary was put under Soviet occupation by force after the close of World War II. The elected government was ousted by the Communists in 1947, and a puppet government was established without affording any opportunity then or subsequently for free elections. But Mr. Khrushchev calls any government imposed by Moscow "the popular system" and regards it as a fulfillment of the Communist "revolutionary" purposes.

Actually what happened in the Autumn of 1956 was that the people of Hungary, resentful of the tyrannical regime which had been ruling them and particularly of Soviet domination of their country, rebelled and set up a free government under Imre Nagy. Several thousands of the Soviet troops stationed in Hungary at the time went over to the side of the people of Hungary and allowed Soviet tanks to be used to help resist the Communist forces.

But the Kremlin order to crush the rebellion prevailed as an overwhelming number of troops was sent into Hungary by Mr. Khrushchev, even while Moscow was "negotiating" with the Nagy government for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Hungary — the major demand of the Hungarian people.

The Soviet government not only overthrew the government in Hungary but later ordered the arrest and execution of its Premier, Imre Nagy, after he had been lured by a promise of safety from the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest, where he had been given asylum.

The United Nations authorized an inquiry but lacked the courage to threaten to expel the Soviet Union for failing to let the U. N. investigators do a fact-finding job in Hungary. The U. N. General Assembly did vote in September 1957 to condemn the Soviet Union for aggression in Hungary.

Again and again since the tragic events in Hungary, the Soviet government has insisted that it was complying with principles of international law and that it was merely aiding an established government at its request. This argument is the basis usually given by the Soviets as justification also for controlling all the other "captive" states such as East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

For Mr. Khrushchev to confess now that he considers it an "international duty" to come to the aid of ideological elements sympathetic to Communism within any country is to assert anew the doctrine of international Communism which has been rightly described in many official documents by the United States and other free governments as "Communist imperialism."

Many misguided persons on this side of the Iron Curtain repeatedly declare that Communism is just a belief or a philosophy of politics. The Supreme Court of the United States in its dicta has often accepted this concept as a basis for upholding acts by individuals who carry on subversive activities in this country and claim the protection of the "free speech" provisions of the Constitution even though their acts may be instigated by a foreign government. But the true distinction is that, in embracing a political philosophy, the subversives go farther and pursue virtually all the objectives of a foreign government which believes in infiltration or revolution by force of arms to gain its ends within other countries.

Nikita Khrushchev's speech in Siberia is a surprise. But he may have been emboldened as a consequence of the visit he made to the United States and by the polls which show that many millions of persons in America fell for his deceptive tactics. For what the Soviet Premier wants more than anything else is acceptance of what is called the "status quo"—the idea that what has happened is final and that it cannot be changed. In effect, Mr. Khrushchev says, "Let bygones be bygones," as he overlooks the injustices and calls for "peaceful coexistence" between the free system and the Communist system.

But, in that same speech in Siberia, the Soviet Premier drew attention to the fact that the Communist bloc is growing in size and power and that all Communist countries help one another. So the war goes on — the war to infiltrate Europe, the Middle East, Africa, Southeast Asia and Latin America. The pledge is given to come to the assistance of any Communist group which gets into power in any country. This is the crux of the "Cold War," which Mr. Khrushchev in his Siberian speech now says will go on with the Soviet objectives unchanged.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

HAPPY SHIP — The increasingly active role President Eisenhower is playing in both foreign and domestic affairs would create the impression that the White House is a tense, busy and nerve-wracking place these days. However, oddly enough, the opposite is true. There is an air of purposefulness about the place, but there is also an atmosphere of good fellowship. There's a lot of friendliness and laughter that was missing until a short time ago.

Various reasons have been given for the change. The White House staff, from presidential assistants down to clerks, is obviously mirroring the President's rising popularity as he deals directly with foreign affairs, the steel strike, and other pressing issues. There is a revived sense of participating in the "crusade" he promised to lead.

Surprisingly, another reason was also given — the absence of Sherman Adams, who has now been gone from the executive offices for a year. Insiders tell that the operations are running just as smoothly as when the tough, terse Adams cracked the whip as the sometimes real acting President.

With Adams' departure went the feeling that goes with working for a tough, unreasoning man who in the course of brooking no nonsense, brooks no good sense either.

Now, the White House staff is working more as a team than ever before, doing it willingly instead of grudgingly, and actually getting more done under the gentle persuasions of Maj. Gen. Wilton B. (Jerry) Persons, who is the personification of affability.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Eddie Hough makes me think. He sits at a typewriter behind bars. He is in Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh. Freedom is something a long way behind Eddie, and a long way ahead. He writes stories that stir the mud of the mind. It remains cloudy for a long time.

In the current issue of The Keystone, he and the late Tom Runyon tell the story of Ole Lindquist. Ole called himself a stubborn squarehead. He came to America in 1905. He worked hard. In 1909, he got into a street fight in front of a saloon. A policeman shot Ole. The squarehead drew a gun and killed the cop.

At 19, he was given a life sentence. He kept mumbling "He shot me first," but that made no difference. At Iowa State Penitentiary, Ole was not a good prisoner. Some of the time he was in solitary confinement, getting a single slice of bread each day. Sometimes the guards manacled his wrists to bars over his head and left him there until the ache in his hands was beyond endurance.

He never had a visitor. He never had a Christmas. For ten years, he made matters worse for himself. Then Ole Lindquist mellowed. He began to see himself in the smart young kids coming in. Ole became a shoe cobbler. He repaired old shoes at a bench and sang sexy songs like "The Bird On Nellie's Hat."

In political arguments with other prisoners, Ole defended the government that put him away. "It's the best in the world," he used to say. "Better even than Sweden."

He served 43 years. The young tough Swede with the bull neck became an old man with a big streak of white in his hair and furrows running from his nose to the outside of his chin. Tom Runyon wrote about him. And Runyon was a great writer who was also serving life.

Jack Shelly, an Iowa radio commentator, discussed the story on the air. A dark little widow who wore rimless glasses heard it. Shelly said that Ole had not had a visitor in 40 years, no one had sent him a package in 30 years, and he had not had a letter in 20 years. The little widow was touched. She wrote a note to Ole that night.

He wrote to her. She wrote again. He asked her to please visit him. She did. He told her that there was no hope for him.

He had been behind bars for almost half a century. Addie was permitted to visit Ole every thirty days. She became the nearest thing he had to kin. She was there in rain and in blizzards.

Addie visited the governor. She asked him to give Ole a chance. She asked the district attorney. She asked the parole board. She asked the newspapers. She talked to lawyers, candidates, gooddoers, prison boards, reporters. She fought for many years.

Ole was led blinking into the sunlight of freedom in April 1952. Governor Beardsley stopped all talk about sending Ole Lindquist back to Sweden when he granted a full pardon. The stubborn squarehead got a job in Omaha. He sat with a mouthful of nails and some old shoes.

He was afraid to ask Addie to marry him, but he worked up the courage. She said yes. Later, they moved back to Iowa. As Addie says: "We found happiness in the winter of life." Ole, who had never been loved by anyone, was rich just watching Addie's smile. Addie, who had lost a husband years before, found a good man to live for.

It wasn't meant to go on forever. Ole developed cancer. Three years after he came out into the sunlight, he went back into darkness. He died a stubborn squarehead, but a free one. Addie had a headstone put over his grave. It is a big oblong of granite. It says: "Lindquist" in big letters. Underneath, in small letters on one side, it reads: "Ernest 'Ole' 1889-1955." On the other side, in small letters, it reads: "Addie L" with room below for two dates.

It was Tom Runyon who really arranged for Ole's freedom by writing so masterfully about him. In time, Tom died in prison of a heart attack. He got out the hard way.

Now, in a prison magazine, another life—Edward Hough—writes about Ole and Tom. He does not write with sickening sentimentality. He says thtat they were human beings who did wrong and who paid for it. He thinks maybe they overpaid.

Perhaps. But that Addie remains in my mind. For such a little thing, she is a whole lot of woman . . .

Easy Way Through Trick-Or-Treat Season

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A flimsy Halloween costume may be a firetrap. Children enjoy running through the neighborhood playing "trick or treat" and their pleasure should not be denied. Flashlights are safer than jack-o-lanterns with candles. Dress them in clothes that will not go up in flames if touched by a careless smoker or spark from a bonfire.

A simple formula for flame-proofing ordinary fabrics consists of: 1 gallon warm water, 9 ounces borax, and 4 ounces boric acid powder. Spray with bug sprayer or immerse (preferable).

Many tots are so excited on Halloween they run across streets and highways without looking to the right or left. They should be cautioned. Adults driving on Halloween night must be on the lookout because small fry are difficult to spot, especially when wearing dark clothing and masks.

Those disguised as ghosts have the advantage, provided their vision is not obscured by the tiny holes in Mom's sheets. Light colored costumes are best and those decorated with reflector tape are more easily seen by motorists. Make-up is a good substitute for masks. A mixture of cold cream, vegetable dye, mascara, or rouge makes a good witch's brew. Preschoolers enjoy Halloween too, but they should not be allowed to roam except under the watchful eye of a parent. What to do with the loot is another problem. Some people give children anything—a trick instead of a treat. Stale candy and cookies are used by some, whereas others give jellybeans, nuts, and pieces of chocolate. The wise and friendly homemaker prepares for Halloween and buys a bag or two of small candies such as old-fashioned school stores kept in stock. These are distributed on a tray or doled out with a spoon.

Small children are not greedy and are easily satisfied. What they like may not be the best choice for older children but this is no time to be choosy. Many retreat gracefully, knowing they have outgrown Halloween begging and antics.

HAIR KINKING

Mrs. L. writes: My 10-year-old son's hair is starting to kink. His father had the same trouble and now he is bald. I have tried various salves and lotions but the boy's hair has not improved. Can anything be done or must this condition be blamed on heredity?

REPLY

Heredity is rearing its ugly head. Kinking is not necessarily a forerunner of baldness but it may be so in your family, if it is following an established pattern.

EFFERVESCENCE

J. M. writes: I drink a bottle of beer every night before going to bed. In the morning when I open the refrigerator a shock goes through my system. Do you think this is caused by the gas from the beer?

REULY

I assume this is static electricity. If not, the refrigerator has a short or you have had more than one can of beer.

ASPIRIN

R. M. K. writes: Does aspirin cure anything or is it merely a pain killer?

REPLY

The action of aspirin is not understood. There is a possibility it does more than kill pain.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Two horse thieves in the Utah Territory years ago were caught by a posse representing law and order and promptly strung up. The gallows was constructed so that the bodies would dangle over Great Salt Lake.

The noose loosened on the first prisoner and he went plummeting into the water. As they tied the rope around the neck of the second varmint, he implored, "Make sure this ones tight, fellers: I cant swim a stroke!"

A couple of hoboes were sunning themselves in New York's Bryant Park. One began a rambling reminiscence, oblivious of the fact that his companion had fallen fast asleep.

"Ah, those were the days of my glory," he recalled. "That dollar to which I just referred, incidentally, was the first dollar I ever earned honestly. The other, if I remember correctly, was on June 14, 1952."

WM Continues Unloading Iron Ore In Ridgeley

The Western Maryland Railway is still unloading iron ore at its large storage areas in the Ridgeley-Carpenters addition section.

Joseph M. Miller, Western Division superintendent, said 1,400 carloads of the ore are on the ground at Knobmount and another 800 loads at Maryland Junction.

Other storage spots have been located on the railroad's right of way between here and Hagerstown.

The ore is being stored until the need for it arises in the steel mills.

Both the Western Maryland and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad report there has been little or no effect of the recent developments in the nationwide steel situation.

The Western Maryland, however, will have a slight flurry of business when the Ida Mae Mine near Fairmont goes into operation this week. The mine can produce from 50 to 60 carloads a day.

This is only temporary, however. But if the steel situation is straightened out this mine and other captive mines in the Fairmont area served by the Western Maryland will be back in business again.

The B&O has called back 150 employes at the car repair shops at Keyser, apparently in anticipation of the strike being over.

Two Area Students Join Sorority

Two Western Maryland residents have joined Greek letter societies at Western Maryland College, Westminster.

They were among 81 sophomores to accept bids to the four social sororities on the campus. They were Nancy E. Diaz, 329 Fairview Street, Luke, and Margaret Ann McIntyre, 124 Wood Street, Westernport. Both joined Sigma Sigma Tau.

Miss Diaz and Miss McIntyre, who are roommates, graduated from Bruce High School in Westernport. Miss Diaz is majoring in sociology, Miss McIntyre in home economics.

Section Of Industrial Road Opens Soon

Weather permitting, a large segment of the Industrial Boulevard from Evitts Creek on Oldtown Road to West Street in South End will be open soon.

George Geary, acting district engineer for the State Roads Commission, said the prime contractor, Cumberland Contracting Company, and sub-contractor, Hazelwood Construction Company, are speeding work on the project. Definite date of the official opening could come within a few days.

The two, dual-lane, one-way thoroughfares are in final stages of construction and the SRC has begun planting posts for signs.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said the city is to get a one-week prior notice of the opening.

South lanes of the Boulevard will be for outbound traffic and the north lanes for traffic entering the city through South End.

Parking will be restricted to the left side only along the entire length of the Boulevard under an agreement entered into by the city and SRC December 9, 1957. At that time the city, by resolution, obligated itself to restrict parking to the one side.

Eventually, the Boulevard, "Line C" of the Cumberland Thruway project, will merge with Mechanic and Centre streets and Williams Street and lead into ramps approaching the Thruway itself.

When completed the Boulevard will represent an investment of over $1,000,000 of the $14,000,000 Thruway project. This includes $779,305.56 for construction alone. The remainder is for right-of-way and engineering.

Hawaii's Mount Waialeale is probably the world's rainiest spot, the National Geographic magazine says. Waialeale's annual rainfall averages 489 inches. In a recent year, 624 inches poured down. Strangely enough, only 20 inches a year fall on Waimea, a coastal town just 15 miles away.

New England's thousands of ponds and lakes were formed during the retreat of the continental ice sheet, when glacier debris dammed river valleys and rearranged the drainage pattern. As the ice melted, the sea rose and advanced over the coastal lowlands, drowning stream mouths to form the estuaries of present-day Maine's coast.

Local Church Plans Dinners Next Week

Centre Street Methodist Church is planning Fellowship Dinners Tuesday and Wednesday, October 20 and 21 to acquaint the membership with the "blue print" of church plans for the conference year.

Rev. Carlton M. Harris, pastor, said the dinners will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the large dining room of the education building.

Rev. Mr. Harris said in order that the same number will be present each night, it is asked that members whose last names begin with the letters A through L attend Tuesday and those whose last names begin with letters M through Z on Wednesday night. However, he said this is not a rigid rule and anyone may attend on either of the two nights.

Ladies of the WSCS will serve dinner. Music will be provided during the dinner. Babysitting facilities and a supervised program for children up to six years of age will be provided.

Rev. Mr. Harris said Sunday will be Layman's Day at the church and Donald G. Paulman, lay leader, will be in charge.

As part of the observance, the Men's Club will have a breakfast at the church Recreation Hall Sunday at 8:30 a.m. Reservations may be made by calling Doyle Andrews, PA 2-5265.

New Procedures To Be Followed On Arrest Plan In City Discussed By Police Heads, Magistrates

A discussion of procedures to be followed by officers and local magistrates under a Police Department plan to begin making arrests on city traffic violations was held yesterday in the office of Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

The new arrest procedure goes into effect Monday.

Fleming emphasized that City Police will continue to make arrest on state charges on federal and state thoroughfares and that police radar teams will continue to operate. He said some misunderstanding had developed over the new plan and residents had believed the city would not make arrests on state charges effective Monday. This is not true, he said, adding that radar will be operated and such routes as Frederick and Bedford streets, Route 220 and Route 40 (federal and state highways) patrolled and the law strictly enforced.

Attending yesterday's session were Fleming, Magistrates Peter J. Carpenti, F. Allan Weatherholt, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney.

Fleming said the two magistrates presented a number of valuable suggestions.

The power of the city to make arrests for speeding violations is granted the city under Section 186 of Article 66½ of the Annotated Code of Maryland, according to an opinion given by Carscaden. This gives an incorporated city, town or village authorization to regulate speed of vehicles on any road, street, lane or alley within the corporate limits.

Magistrates have been urged to adopt the same schedule of fines as used in state-preferred charges. Trials on city charges will continue to be held before the city police magistrates at 9 a. m. daily except Sunday in the Public Safety Building.

Fleming said all members of the Police Department have familiarized themselves with ordinances of the city concerning traffic violations. All officers, he said, must use the city's "Notice of Arrest" booklet and the only time the State "Report of Arrest and Trial" book will be used is when the arrest is being made in connection with a state violation.

In a memorandum to Chief Gaffney, Fleming said the order is made only to change procedures as to arrest. Heretofore, arrests were made on state charges rather than on city charges and the fine has been going to the state and Allegany County. Effective Monday when an arrest is made on a city charge, any fine imposed will be retained by the city.

Fleming said that Carscaden's opinion pointed out that city officers should not make any arrests for "careless driving" or any other than "speeding."

Tasty Bread

⅓ cup butter or margarine, softened
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons ketchup
1 loaf unsliced French bread (1-1¼ pounds)

Heat oven to 350°F. (moderate). Blend softened butter, garlic and ketchup. Cut bread diagonally into 1-inch thick slices, cutting almost to bottom of loaf. Spread mixture between slices and over top of bread. Place on cookie sheet. Bake 15 to 20 minutes. Serve while hot.

Fancy Franks

A combination of grated sharp cheddar cheese, pickle relish, prepared mustard and grated onion provides a mighty tempting topping for broiled frankfurters. Simply split frankfurters almost in half. Fill with relish mixture and broil 6 to 8 minutes.

Poached Eggs Rosemary

Prepare in same manner as above. Only this time sprinkle butter with Rosemary for a different but delicious flavor. Serve with potato chips.

"The harvest's in" applies not only to the raw foods you find in your market these days but to canned foods, too. Take apple sauce, apple slices and apple juice, for example. As fast as the ripe juicy apples are picked, they're turned into these happy apple products. Then to market they go. That's why you'll want to stock up right now on canned apple sauce, canned slices and apple juice. They're the bright, new pack, plentiful, flavorsome and, as always, modest in price. From breakfast right through to bedtime snack, apple products help make meals tastier and easier to prepare.

Remember Mother On Sweetheart Day

What's more fun than to surprise the ones you love with a special celebration they're not expecting! Here's your chance, for Sweetest Day is coming up tomorrow and it's a day just created to tell them that you're pretty fond of them. There's nothing like a luscious cake (easy-to-make) and, of course, you'll want to make the day sweet and complete with one of those so-very-good gifts of freshly boxed chocolates.

Sweetest Day Spice Cake

(Makes 1 9-inch layer cake)

1 1-pound 3-ounce package honey spice cake mix
¼ cup apricot jam
¼ cup chopped maraschino cherries drained (about 10 cherries)
1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar

Prepare honey spice cake mix as directed on package for mixing. Bake as directed on package for 2 9-inch layer pans. Combine apricot jam and cherries; mix well. Spread cherry mixture on one layer. Top with second layer. Beat cheese until smooth. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly, until smooth. Frost sides and top of cake with cream cheese frosting.

Sweetest Day White Cake

(Makes 1 9-inch layered cake)

1 1-pound 4-ounce package white cake mix
½ cup butter or margarine, softened
2 teaspoons vanilla
6 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons cocoa
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained (about 20 cherries)
½ cup chopped walnuts
Maraschino cherries

Prepare cake mix following package directions for mixing. Bake cake following package directions for 2 9-inch layers. Cream butter or margarine and 2 cups confectioners' sugar. Add remaining confectioners' sugar and milk alternately to butter or margarine mixture. Beat until smooth. Add vanilla, blend. Remove 1 cup frosting. Add cocoa to 1 cup frosting; blend until smooth. Remove ¼ cup cocoa frosting and reserve for garnishing. Add chopped cherries and walnuts to remaining ¾ cup cocoa frosting; mix. Spread cocoa cherry frosting on cake layer. Top with remaining cake layer. Spread top and sides of cake with white frosting. Garnish cake with reserved ¼ cup cocoa frosting and cherries.

Spicy Apples

Heat oven to 350°F. (moderate). Wash and core apples. Pare apples one third of the way down; place in shallow baking pan. Top each apple with 1 tablespoon ketchup combined with 2 tablespoons water and 1 tablespoon sugar. Bake 45-60 minutes, basting occasionally, or until apples are tender.

Idea for Friday night fish supper: Bake frozen fish fillets. Heat canned apple slices, add a pat of butter and serve with the fish.

Poached Eggs Citronne

Lightly butter each poacher. Rub lemon rind along rim to blend with butter. Then put eggs in poachers and place in pan to boil. Hot water releases oil and flavors the eggs. When eggs are done to desired firmness, usually when white has just coagulated, the egg should be carefully lifted from water with slotted spoon or pancake turner, letting it drain for a moment. Serve with crisp tasty potato chips.

Another equally delightful potato chip breakfast recipe is:

Scrapple Recipe Features Spicy Pork Sausages

Generally speaking, a recipe for scrapple is considered an eastern dish. This is probably so because one of the most frequently referred-to scrapple recipes is called Philadelphia Scrapple.

Excluding a few minor variances, a scrapple recipe usually features cooked pork and yellow corn meal.

Certainly a recipe such as this would make an excellent Sunday supper. It can be prepared in advance, giving the homemaker more time with her family.

In this particular recipe, bulk pork sausage is the meat called for. As an added texture note, after the scrapple has been chilled and just before browning, the slices are coated with crushed corn flakes. Sound good?

Try this recipe. Not only is it a sure recipe winner but with pork in such plentiful supply, you'll also be amazed at the economy of this recipe.

Sausage Scrapple

2 pounds pork sausage
2 cans (6 ounces each) evaporated milk
3 cups water
1 cup yellow corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups crushed corn flakes
2 eggs
3 to 4 tablespoon lard or drippings

Brown sausage and pour off drippings. Combine milk and water. Measure 3 cups of liquid and add to sausage. Reserve remaining liquid for dipping scrapple. Heat sausage mixture to boiling and slowly stir in corn meal and seasonings. Cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Pour into a greased 5x9-inch loaf pan and chill until firm. Unmold and cut into ½-inch slices. Dip into corn flakes. Combine eggs and remaining liquid and dip slices in this mixture, then in corn flakes again. Brown in lard or drippings, on both sides and serve hot with sirup, if desired. Yield: 8 servings.

Canned Meats And You

Canned and ready-to-serve meats can help the homemaker prepare meals for unexpected guests, add variety to breakfast, lunch and dinner meals, add special appeal to hot weather salads as well as providing easy carving for Dad.

Menus For Next Week's County School Lunches

The list of menus for all public school cafeterias in Allegany County for next week has been released by Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias for the Board of Education.

Each day the same meals will be offered all students with exception of those enrolled at Allegany, Fort Hill and Beall high schools.

The meals are checked for nutritional content by Mrs. Eaton. The menus are compiled by five of the cafeteria managers. Each manager will serve twice during the year on the monthly selection board.

The list for next week is as follows:

Monday — Barbecued beef on bun, buttered corn, vegetable salad (lettuce, radishes, fresh spinach, endive, green pepper), apple goodie, milk.

Tuesday—Roast beef, whipped potatoes, gravy, yellow wax beans, enriched white and whole wheat bread, fresh apple or fruit juice, milk.

Wednesday—Cheese rarebit on crackers or macaroni and cheese, one-half hard cooked egg, buttered peas, spiced beets, golden cornbread and butter and jelly, ice cream, milk.

Thursday — Vegetable soup crackers, ham salad sandwich, relish tray, brownie, milk.

Friday—Salmon loaf or patties browned or parslied potatoes, stewed tomatoes and celery, enriched white and whole wheat bread and butter, cherry surprise, milk.

Do you impress others as being graceful or awkward as you put on your coat? With this routine, you're sure of grace!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Coat Yourself With Form!

When Anne Baker, one of the new Powers Girls, found she was going to have to put on a winter coat right out on the runway in her first big fashion show, she had more than a moment of panic. How to put on a coat gracefully is something very few girls learn at home or at school. The routine most women go through is even less graceful to behold than a professional wrestler.

It took just a few moments to teach Anne how to don her coat with a smoothness that would keep all eyes upon her on the runway and make them radiate admiration. Here's the know-how you need, if you want to learn the trick yourself—and for your sake, I hope you do!

1. With your left hand, firmly grasp your coat at the right side of the neck. (Show your respect for it by holding the coat high enough so the hem doesn't drag on the floor!) Raise your right elbow to shoulder level and slide fingers and arm into the sleeve as your left hand guides the coat shoulder to a firm anchorage on your right shoulder.

2. Now, still using the left hand, reach behind your neck and grasp the coat with your thumb and forefinger; smooth it across the left shoulder.

3. Easy does it now! No jerky thrusts! Let go of the coat with your left hand, but keep the hand at shoulder level. Bring the right hand across to grasp the left side of the coat's neck and slide it beyond the shoulder so the left hand can easily be slipped into the sleeve.

4. You're in — and if you've followed directions, without contortions! Now adjust the coat at the neckline so it falls neatly. To do this curl the fingers of both hands around the front of the neckline and give it a slight tug.

Watch yourself in your mirror as you do it. You'll be mighty proud of this newly-acquired grace!

Potato Chips For Breakfast

All America is now enjoying potato chips for breakfast. Since the first meal is considered the most important one of the day, potato chips—"the All-American food"—adds a new appetite note that the whole family will welcome. Recipes especially prepared for the national celebration of the potato chip industry during October such as Poached Eggs Citronne with Potato Chips are part of the latest trend in the wide, wonderful world of food:

Gooey Buns

- ⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
- ⅔ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 cups packaged biscuit mix
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ½ cup milk
- 2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine
- ⅓ cup ketchup
- ⅓ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ½ cup raisins

Heat oven to 375°F. (moderately hot). Combine butter and sugar; spoon into 16 greased muffin cups. Set aside. Combine biscuit mix, sugar and milk. Roll dough ¼ inch thick into rectangle (16" x 7"). Spread with butter and ketchup. Sprinkle with mixture of brown sugar, cinnamon and raisins. Roll tightly, beginning at wide edge. Press edge and ends to seal dough. Cut into 1-inch slices. Place rolls over mixture in cups. Bake 15-17 minutes or until lightly browned. Invert on rack to cool. Sauce will run over buns. Makes 16 buns.

Who likes to drink apple juice? Why, the youngsters, of course . . . especially when they troop in from school. Being pure fruit juice, it's a most wholesome and delicious go-along with cookies, crackers or gingerbread as a mid-afternoon snack.

Apricot Date Bread

- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- ¾ cup sugar
- ¾ cup milk
- ½ cup ketchup
- 3 cups packaged biscuit mix
- 1½ cups finely cut dried apricots
- 1 cup finely cut dates

Heat oven to 350°F. (moderate). Combine first four ingredients. Stir in biscuit mix and fruits. Beat vigorously 30 seconds. Turn into well greased loaf pan (9" x 5" x 2½"). Bake 1 hour 10 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Flavor improves with overnight storage. Serve thinly sliced with butter or cream cheese. Makes 1 loaf.

A Quick And Easy

Grind ¼ pound ready-to-serve meat. Remove the shells from hard-cooked eggs and cut in half lengthwise. Separate yolks from whites. Mash yolks and add ground meat, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise. Mix well and fill each egg white with mixture, using fork or pastry tube.

Broiling Mathematics

In broiling a 1-inch thick chop or steak place the meat 2 to 3 inches from the heat; a 2-inch chop or steak should be placed 3 to 5 inches from the heat.

Stew Meat

Lamb stew meat can come from the shoulder, breast, shanks, or neck. Being less-tender, this meat is cooked by braising, a moist heat method of meat cookery.

If you man is a "meat and potatoes" guy, while you like something new and gay on the dinner plate, try the different frozen potato products you'll find in your grocer's frozen food case. Besides frozen French fries, there are crinkle cut potatoes, diced potatoes, stuffed baked potatoes, and crisp little potato puffs packed in handy frozen cartons. Each kind of potato is cooked to perfection, too.

Ordnance Works Will Be Sold

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-W.Va.) announced Wednesday that the General Services Administration (GSA) had paved the way for sale of the Morgantown Ordnance Works at Morgantown, W.Va.

Staggers said the GSA had signed a contract with the Harry Taylor Co., of East Orange, N.J., to serve as brokers for selling the plant.

Staggers had urged use of federal funds to modernize the plant and make it more attractive to private industry to keep it as a job producing facility in the community.

The Department of Defense declared in August of 1957 that the ordnance works was surplus property and directed the GSA to dispose of it, but no bids were received.

Staggers indicated the brokerage firm would try to sell the works to private industry.

Harpers Ferry Centennial Opens Today

John Brown's Raid Started Events That Led To Civil War

When John Brown struck at Harpers Ferry on the rainy Sunday night of Oct. 16, 1859—just 100 years ago—in his one-man war to free the Southern slaves, he fired a train that led inevitably to civil war.

The chattering convulsion came less than 18 months later in a delayed explosion from the fuse lit by Brown and his dedicated abolitionist raiders in the mountains of what was then Virginia and later became West Virginia.

Historians are agreed that the Harpers Ferry raid was one of the momentous events in American history. Though insignificant within itself and in its immediate results, it was the one spark needed to explode the charged magazine of hates and differences, political and economic, that had accumulated for years between the industrial North and the agrarian South.

John Brown and his pitiful little "army of liberation" of 21 men swooped down on Harpers Ferry from their hideout in the nearby Maryland hills late in the night of Oct. 16. The U.S. Armory and Arsenal, with thousands of stands of arms, was quickly taken; details of the raid were sent into the surrounding country; orders were issued to round up hostages and to gather a few unwilling slaves to serve in the "army."

Took 40 Hostages

By daybreak, some 40 hostages had been captured and penned up and Brown was wearing Gen. George Washington's sword which legend said had been given him by Frederick the Great of Prussia. The sword, together with its owner, had been taken from the home of Col. Lewis Washington, grand-nephew of the first President.

But Brown had not reckoned on the rapid mobilization of the local militia companies. The alarm was spread by horsemen throughout the area and before noon on Monday companies from Charles Town and Shepherdstown were on the scene, followed shortly by others from Martinsburg, Winchester, Frederick, Maryland, and later from Baltimore. After Monday noon the raiders were ringed into the Armory area and escape was impossible.

Late Monday night, a detachment of 90 Marines arrived under the command of Brevet Col. Robert E. Lee, 2nd U.S. Cavalry. At daybreak Tuesday, the Marines battered down the doors of the fire engine house in the Armory enclosure in which Brown and his few surviving men had taken refuge.

Fifteen Killed

It was all over in a few minutes. But in the fighting, the Mayor of Harpers Ferry, a Marine, one free Negro, two slaves and 10 members of Brown's "army" were killed. Nine Virginia militiamen and one Marine were wounded. Brown and six of his raiders were captured and later hanged. Five escaped.

John Brown was hurried to trial, and was as hurriedly convicted of treason, murder and of conspiring with slaves to rebel—all capital crimes. Thirty days after sentence was passed, on the morning of Dec. 2, 1958, he marched unflinchingly to the scaffold at Charles Town.

Had John Brown been killed in the fighting it is very likely that his fame and his cause would have been labeled an irresponsible, insane and fanatical foray upon a peaceful community, and deserving of the fate that befell it.

But in quelling the disturbance, Gov. Henry A. Wise overreached himself by attaching to the raid more importance than it really merited, contributing much toward giving Brown the aura of a martyr.

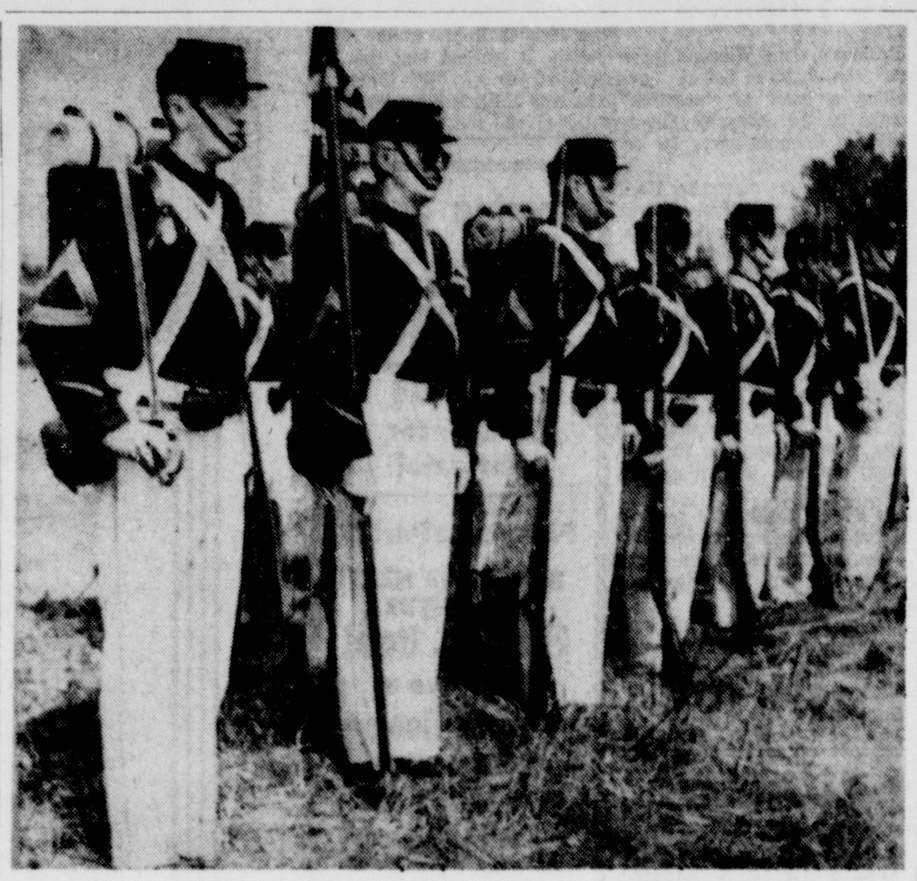

John Brown's jailers had made another mistake between the time he was captured and the day he died. They placed a mighty weapon in his hand by granting him the privilege of writing freely from his cell — and his letters, which went out in a constant stream, found their way into the newspapers almost as soon as received by his Northern supporters.

Letters A Force

These letters were a tremendous force in forming public opinion in the North and of winning new converts to the anti-slavery crusade. As the anti-slavery sentiment mounted and crystallized in the North, the South seethed with anger at the imminent danger to its billion-dollar business in slaves.

John Brown, dead, was even a more potent force than John Brown living; he troubled the country more than ever after he had been laid in his grave at North Elba, N.Y., high in the Adirondacks.

He became a symbol of the struggle for freedom; his raid was a live political issue in Congress and in the presidential campaign of 1860. And the theme song of the Union soldiers was "John Brown's Body." As a symbol his name has been covered with legend, and in many lands he became something of a patron saint of minority or oppressed groups struggling for political or physical freedom.

Skirmishers Ready For Action

These sharply dressed marines are members of Forney's Battalion from New Jersey which will take part in the John Brown Centennial Observance at Harpers Ferry, Saturday. They'll play the role of U. S. Marines who stormed the fire engine house where Brown was captured. Action will take place at a mock fort on the Storer College campus. (AP Photofax)

Methodists To Mark Laymen's Sunday

Trinity Methodist Church, 122 Grand Avenue, will hold a special Laymen's Day service on Sunday at 11 a.m., Rev. Louis L. Emerick, pastor, announced.

Thomas Wagner will be leader of the worship service and Joseph Wagner will lead the congregation in the psalter, "Universal Praise."

Paul Flick has chosen the first six verses from the Fourth Chapter of Ephesians for his Scripture lesson. Guest speaker will be Delbert Proudfoot, who will talk on "You Have Been Called."

Special music will be presented by the senior choir under the direction of Warren Shumaker. The 7:30 p.m. service will be in charge of Rev. Mr. Emerick, who will speak on "Churchgoing."

Missionary Will

The deacons of the church and the chairman of the finance committee will take part in the ritual commemorating the new $115,000 building.

Cumberland papers, church literature, pictures, names of members of the church, and history of the church and of the Maryland Baptist Association will be among the items placed in the cornerstone, Rev. Mr. Keefe said.

Rev. Mr. Bivins moved to Cumberland October 1 and resides on Bedford Street. He was pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, Sunset Beach, in the Pasadena, Md., area for a year prior to being appointed missionary for the Western Baptist Association.

A native of Georgia, Rev. Mr. Bivins held pastorates in Georgia and California and did pioneer work in California where he was instrumental in introducing Southern Baptist work.

He is a graduate of Mercer University, Georgia, and Southwestern Seminary, Texas.

His work will include the strengthening of local Baptist churches, coordinating the work of churches in the association, and the building of new missions here.

Commissioners Are Thanked

Residents along Wiegand Drive near the LaVale School have written a letter of "heartfelt" thanks to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for repairs to their road

The letter was signed by Doug Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. George Bittner, Mrs. Olive Scott and Mr. and Mrs. James Waller.

The commissioners also received a letter from S. Russ Minter, local architect, concerning the proposal that the county build a new jail. He wrote that he has designed a new jail being constructed at Moorefield, W. Va., for Hardy County. It contains 24 cells, a lockup area for six additional persons, and a jailer's quarters.

As a local resident he requested that he be given consideration in the appointment of an architect for the jail. The letter was filed.

James G. Stevenson, clerk to the county commissioners, wrote two letters at the request of the commissioners. One notified the Marquis Company, 128 Bedford Street, that its bid of $429.25 for partitions in the office of District Forester William H. Johnson on the third floor of the Court House had been accepted.

The second letter went to Paul H. Garlitz, secretary of the Rawlings Heights Improvement Association. It notified him that all rights-of-way on "B" Street in Rawlings Heights have not been obtained and the county can do nothing for street improvements until all of the rights are obtained.

50,000 To See Navy-Miami Tonight

Twice Beaten Middies Given 3-Point Edge

Hurricanes Lost To Top Ranked LSU After Winning Two

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Navy's battered football forces, whipped in their last two outings, hope to get a taste of victory again Friday night when they face the University of Miami before 50,000 in the Orange Bowl.

Although they were beaten 20-7 by Southern Methodist and trounced 32-6 by Syracuse, the Middies (2-2) were 3-point favorites over once-beaten Miami (2-1). The Hurricanes lost 27-3 last week to Louisiana State, top-ranking team of the nation.

In the only other major game on the Friday night program, Utah (1-2) journeys to Denver (1-3) for a Skyline Conference battle.

Big Saturday Card

The big Saturday card has a flock of interesting pairings, including five contests matching all-winning combinations.

Even this early, bowl hopes will be riding on most of the games. The No. 1 battle of the unbeatens sends third-ranking Texas (4-0) against 12th ranked Arkansas (4-0) in a night game at Little Rock.

Seventh-ranked Stouthern California (3-0) journeys to Seattle for a big one with Washington (4-0), ranked 18th.

The Air Force Academy (3-0, ranked 17th, also hits the road for a toughie against Oregon (4-0) at Portland.

Syracuse (3-0) is a heavy favorite over visiting Holy Cross (3-0) and host Cornell (3-0) is a slight choice over Yale (3-0).

Five other all-winning teams in the top 10 teams also see action Saturday.

LSU Plays Kentucky

Louisiana State, (4-0) winner of 16 straight, goes to Kentucky (1-3) for a night game. Northwestern (3-0), the No. 2 team, travels to Michigan (1-3). Fourth-ranked Georgia Tech (4-0) is home to Auburn (2-1). Mississippi (4-0), ranked fifth, entertains Tulane (2-2) and Penn State (4-0), ranked 10th, hosts Boston U. (1-2).

Purdue (2-0-1), risks its No. 6 ranking against fired-up Ohio State (1-2) at Columbus. Iowa (2-1), ranked ninth, meets Wisconsin (2-1) at Madison.

Effie J Scores At Shenandoah

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Francil L. Harding's Effie J, a home bred daughter of War Pippin, made her second race a winning one Thursday night, turning back seven juveniles in the three and a half furlong fifth race at Shenandoah Downs.

The Rockville, Md. filly survived a photo to defeat the even-money favorite, Foxy Pat, by a head. The two year olds drove Effie J to a 42 2-5 time over the soft track.

Joe French was aboard Effie J, winning his second race of the night. That win, coupled with a victory on Turls in the third, ran French's total for the meeting to 29, five behind leader Frank Northcutt.

The Shenandoah double returned $67.40 on the 4 and 7 combination of Piano Girl and Express.

Two Vols Among 10 Voted To Football Hall Of Fame

Blanchard, Trippi, Walker And Munn Appear On List

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI)—Ten new members were selected Thursday for the National Football Hall of Fame, which will be built here on the campus of Rutgers University where the first intercollegiate football game was played.

The additions, announced Thursday by the hall's selection committee after nominations by sports writers and broadcasters throughout the nation, brings to 172 the numbers of men scheduled for honor in the hall.

The new selections are:

Felix (Doc) Blanchard, star fullback at Army in 1945, '46, and '47; Bobby Dodd, star quarterback of Tennessee 1928-30 and presently coach of Goergia Tech; the late Herman Hickman, star guard at Tennessee in 1931 and former coach of Yale; Carl Hinkle, star center at Vanderbilt in 1937; the late James (Stan) Keck, star tackle at Princeton 1919-21 and former coach of Norwich, Princeton, and Waynesburg.

Also: James Banks McFadden, star halfback at Clemson 1938-40 and present backfield coach at Clemson; Clarence (Biggie) Munn, star fullback and guard at Minnesota 1930, former head coach of Michigan State, and presently athletic director Michigan State; the late Henry Disbrow Phillips, star guard at Sewanee 1902, '03, '04; Charles Trippi, star halfback at Georgia in 1942, '45, '46, later a star for Chicago Cardinals pro team and presently backfield coach of the Cardinals; and Ewell (Doak) Walker, star quarterback at Southern Methodist 1947, '48, '49, later a star for the Detroit Lions pro team.

The seven surviving members of the group will be honored at the hall's annual award dinner here on Dec. 1.

At the same dinner, General of the Army Douglas MacArthur will be presented with the second annual Gold Medal Award for his contributions to amateur football. The first Gold Medal Award last year went to President Eisenhower.

Hunter Is Fined $100, Privileges Suspended For Negligent Shooting

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Carl Godbey, 42, of nearby Falling Rock, was fined $100 Thursday and had his hunting privileges suspended for five years.

The penalty was imposed by a justice of the peace on a charge of negligent shooting in the wounding by Godbey last Saturday of James Robinson, 30, St. Albans.

Robinson's left hand was badly mangled and the stock of his shotgun shattered.

Conservation Officer J. H. Branham said Robinson had raised his shotgun to fire at a squirrel while hunting near Falling Rock.

The officer said that Godbey, seeing the movement from a distance, also fired, thinking he had seen a squirrel he had been following.

Jones Paces Hurlers With 2.82 Average

Stu Miller Second, Braves' Buhl Third

NEW YORK (AP)—Sam Jones, 21-game winner for the San Francisco Giants, captured the 1959 National League earned run championship with a 2.82 average.

The toothpick-chewing right-hander shaded teammate Stu Miller, the defending titlist. Miller posted a 2.84 ERA mark, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed Thursday.

Jones, who pitched a seven-inning no-hitter against St. Louis in his final start, gave up 85 earned runs in 271 innings. The slowball-throwing Miller allowed 53 earned runs in 168 frames. He led a year ago with 2.47.

Sam Sam appeared in 50 games, starting and relieving, and had four shutouts. Miller, used mainly in relief, had an 8-7 won-lost record in 59 games.

Milwaukee's Bob Buhl ranked third in the listings with a 2.86 average, yielding 63 earned runs in 198 innings. Teammate Warren Spahn, the ERA winner in 1947 and 1953, followed with 2.96. Then came Vernon Law of Pittsburgh and Gene Conley of Philadelphia, tied at 3.00.

Bob (Riverboat) Smith, rookie pitcher with the Chicago Cubs, pitched six shutouts for San Francisco in 1957, the Seals' last year in the Pacific Coast League.

Fort Hill Hosts North High, Allegany At Martinsburg

Campers Can Tie Owls For Lead In CVAL

Moorefield Visits Keyser; Ridgeley To Invade Romney

North High of Hagerstown and Fort Hill, the schools that have won outright or shared the title every year since the revival of the Cumberland Valley Athletic League, are slated to meet at Greenway Avenue stadium tonight at 8 o'clock.

At the present time Westminster High School's Owls are setting the pace in the seven school circuit with a 3-0 record while Allegany's Campers occupy the runner-up spot with 2-0 followed by Fort Hill with 1-0-1 and North High 2-2.

Go 15 Without Loss

Coach Charley Lattimer's Hilltoppers hold the distinction of having gone through 15 CVAL games in three seasons without a defeat. That's 13 victories and two tie games. Fort Hill was last defeated in 1956 and since that setback the locals have gone through 25 games without a loss. That overall mark stands at 23-0-2.

North High's current mark is 2-2-1. Coach Mel Henry's team played a scoreless tie with York, Pa., lost to Westminster, 21-13, and Allegany, 39-20, and won its last two outings from South Hagerstown, 14-2, and Martinsburg, 52-13.

The only blemish on the Fort Hill record is a 7-7 tie with Frederick. The Sentinels' four wins were at the expense of LaSalle, 39-6, Martinsburg, 44-0, Beall, 33-0, and Handley of Winchester, 13-0. Fort Hill has yielded only two touchdowns in five games.

Won Two Out of Ten

Since Mel Henry, who coached football at Fort Hill in 1943, 1944 and 1945, took over the reins at Hagerstown in 1949 his Hub City teams have faced Fort Hill 10 times and the Sentinels have emerged the winners in six games against two losses and two tie games.

In 1956 when the C.V.A.L. was revived Fort Hill and Hagerstown tied for the title with 4-1 records. Bill Hahn's 1957 team retained the crown with a 7-0 mark and last year shared the title with North High at 5-0-1. The tie was a 6-6 affair between the co-champions.

The other C.V.A.L. battle on tap tonight finds Ed Schwarz's Allegany Campers doing battle with John Coburn's Martinsburg High School Bulldogs on the West Virginians' field at 9:30 EDT.

Could Tie For Lead

Martinsburg, thumped by South Hagerstown, 21-6, Fort Hill 44-0, Westminster 33-0 and North Hagerstown 52-13, has dropped 12 consecutive games since its last victory over South Hagerstown in the second game of the 1958 campaign. The Campers are 3-1 overall, holding decisions over Beall, 20-0, North High and South High, 19-0, while losing to Keyser, 13-0.

A victory tonight would enable Allegany to tie Westminster for first place in the C.V.A.L. The Owls are billed to play a non-league game with Handley High on Saturday at Winchester.

Beall High School's Mountaineers (1-3-1) are slated to tackle Denver Mitchell's Northern High School Huskies of Garrett County tonight at 8 o'clock in Frostburg. Northern is 0-5 for the season and goes into tonight's game with a two-year 11-game losing streak.

Jackets Test Keyser

Three games are on tap in the Potomac Valley Conference today but the No. 1 contest is that between the Moorefield Yellowjackets and the Keyser High Tornado at 1:30 EDT., at Keyser.

Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's team has reeled off 27 consecutive wins in P.V.C. competition and will be the favorite over the Hardy Countians who have dropped eight in a row to KHS since 1950. Moorefield bagged that one 47-0 but has scored only 25 points in the last eight outings against the Tornado.

Moorefield is currently pacing the league with a 5-0 record and is followed by West Virginia School for the Deaf with 3-0 and Keyser 2-0. Keyser and the Romney Deaf eleven were the conference's 1958 co-champions.

Hawks Visit Romney

In other P.V.C. action today, the Ridgeley High Blackhawks tackle the Romney High Pioneers in Romney at 1:30 EST., and the Petersburg Vikings will play host to Circleville's Indians at 2:00 EST.

Coach Earl Adolphson's Southern High gridders of Oakland will be striving to crash the .500 circle when they tackle the Kingwood High Stags at Kingwood tonight. The Garrett Countians have won two in a row and now stand 2-3 for the season. Tonight's game is set for 7:30 EST.

The Preston County team is winless this season and has dropped five games in a row.

Rounding out the Friday program is the Hot Springs (Va.) at Franklin game, Frederick High's test with Bel Air High, which handed Westminster its only setback (21-19) and the Cresson at Bedford game tonight. Since losing to Somerset (14-12) the Bisons of Coach Harold Wilkinson have belted Shade Township, 19-0, LaSalle 26-0, Portage, 42-6, and now own a 4-1 record.

PRO OF YEAR — Winner of several tourneys including the Masters, Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., has been named "professional golfer of the year" for 1959. Wall received more votes than all other candidates combined.

Garner Named To Pimlico's Hall Of Fame

Willie Shoemaker, Shilling Honored

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three famous jockeys, Willie Shoemaker, Mack Garner and Carroll Shilling, have been added to the select list of riders in the Jockeys Hall of Fame at Pimlico race track.

The selection of the 28-year-old Shoemaker, one of the current top riders, and the two old timers, Garner and Shilling, was announced Thursday. They were elected in a poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Shoemaker, the youngest of 15 jockeys selected in the six-year history of the Hall of Fame, wasn't eligible until this year because of a rule that a jockey could not be considered until 10 years after his first winner.

His first winner was April 29, 1949, and he is now approaching 4,000 wins.

Garner rode 1,346 winners and died of a heart attack a few hours after riding his last at River Downs, Ohio, at the age of 36 in 1937.

Shilling was indefinitely suspended in 1912 for fighting with another jockey at the old Havre de Grace, Md., track. He argued unsuccessfully for eight years to have the suspension lifted.

He rode Worth to victory in the Kentucky Derby the year of his suspension and was a leading money winner in 1910. Shilling also won 42 stakes at a time when they were few and far between. He died in 1950.

Starting next year, only one jockey will be elected to the Hall of Fame.

Previous selections were Eddie Arcaro, Earl Sande, George Woolf, John Longden, Isaac Murphy, Tod Sloan, Ted Atkinson, Walter Miller, Sonny Workman, Laverne Fator, Snapper Garrison and James McLaughlin.

Waterfowl Shooting Hours Are Revised

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Conservation Department revised Thursday an earlier announcement regarding shooting hours for the upcoming waterfowl season. It said the revision followed receipt of data from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Shooting hours on ducks, coots and wilson's snipe will begin at 12 noon on Nov. 20. On each day thereafter, shooting will be legal from sunrise to sunset.

Geese and brant will be legal game from sunrise to sunset on each day of the season. The season on geese and brant will run from Nov. 10 to next Jan. 8.

Wilson's snipe will become legal game on Nov. 20, with the season to run through Dec. 19. Ducks and coots may be taken from 12 noon Nov. 20 through Jan. 8. Sunday hunting will be prohibited.

Six Deer Slain In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Six deer have been killed in West Virginia since the start of the bow and arrow deer season, three of them in Preston County.

The State Conservation Commission said Thursday two of the three kills in Preston County were made at Coopers Rock State Forest. The season opened Oct. 3 and closes out Dec. 31.

The latest kill was recorded last Tuesday. Lela Williamson of Bruceton Mills took a four-point buck, weighing 135 pounds.

Ahlquist Puts Blast On Pilot Of Patterson

D'Amato Is Called Gangster, Coward By Johansson's Adviser

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Edwin Ahlquist, adviser to heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson, castigated Floyd Patterson's manager Thursday as a "gangster" and a "coward" and said Johansson might drop Patterson as a title defense rival.

"It is time for Floyd Patterson to start thinking now," said Ahlquist. "It is possible we will choose a new contender for Ingemar if Floyd refuses to get rid of his underworld controllers."

Johansson won the heavyweight crown by knocking out Patterson in their title fight at New York last June 26, and the return-bout contract calls for Johansson to give Patterson a chance to regain the title. But since that time the New York State Athletic Commission has been investigating the promotion of the June 26 bout.

The commission has taken steps toward revoking the licenses of Cus D'Amato, Patterson's Manager; Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the June 26 bout; and Rosensohn Enterprises Inc., which holds the return bout contract.

Ahlquist said he hopes the commission "will suspend those who promoted the June fight."

Asked to comment on a statement by Vincent Velella, new head of Rosensohn Enterprises Inc., that the group was considering shifting the site of the return bout from New York to one of five other cities, Ahlquist said, "we will not agree to stage the return bout in any other place than New York. If Velella and his associates are considered gangsters in New York, they probably will not be better anywhere else, either.

Concerning D'Amato, Ahlquist said, "I think Cus D'Amato is the greatest gangster of them all. He is a coward who refuses to show up before the commission. I hope he will get a permanent suspension."

Dukes Dissatisfied With Pistons' Pact

DETROIT (UPI) — Walter Dukes, the Detroit Pistons' seven-foot center, apparently quit professional basketball Thursday after a marathon contract meeting with general manager Nick Kerbawy.

"In all likelihood Dukes will not be with the Pistons when they open their season against the Minneapolis Lakers Sunday," one club official said.

Kerbawy and Dukes talked for over five hours Thursday and Dukes abruptly ended the meeting when he got up without a word and walked out of the Pistons' office.

Dukes did not say where he was going. Kerbawy said he and the former Seton Hall star were still about $2,500 apart on Dukes' contract for the 1959-60 season.

Grant Scores Triple

CAMDEN, N.J. (UPI) —Jockey Howard Grant booted home three winners at Garden State Park Thursday.

Grant lost no time in starting his triple as he scored with Go Rippey ($4.80) in the first race. He then completed the streak aboard Epee Bleu ($6.00) in the third and Great Orbit ($38.20) in the fifth.

Coach Harold "Buck" Shober's LaSalle High School junior varsity gridders moved into the .500 circle yesterday by defeating the Beall High School Jayvees at Frostburg by the score of 6-0.

The victory was the second for the Little Explorers against two defeats and one tie. Beall has won one and lost three.

Rick Shaffer, LaSalle left halfback, scored from 18 yards out on a counter play in the third period to break a scoreless deadlock. The play was set up when LaSalle recovered a Beall fumble on the 25.

Bob Emmert, Beall halfback, intercepted a pass and galloped 55 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter but the score was disallowed because of a clipping penalty.

Gene Fullmer Signs To Defend His Title

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, signed Thursday to defend his NBA middleweight title against Spider Webb of Chicago in Logan, Utah, Dec. 4.

Fullmer, who will be making his first defense of the NBA crown he won by stopping Carmen Basilio in August, has met Webb once before. He outpointed Webb in a nontitle 10-rounder Sept. 11, 1958.

Ned Winder, chairman of the Utah Athletic Commission, said the 15-round bout will be scored under the 10-point must system and with knockdown limits waived.

Rep. Celler Criticizes Majors For Attitude Toward 3d League

To Push Anti-Trust Legislation In Next Session Of Congress

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Thursday criticized National and American League owners in their attitude toward a third major baseball league and said he planned to push anti-trust legislation in the next session of Congress.

Celler said "this new Continental League is going to die aborning unless they get some help from Frick and his outfit."

The congressman referred to Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, and executives of the National and American Leagues.

"They say they want to help, and then don't," Celler declared.

Five Cities In Line

The Continental League was organized recently with five founding cities — New York, Houston, Denver, Toronto and Minneapolis-St. Paul. Three other cities are to be selecetd.

Celler said he wanted to protest baseball as a sport, and that proposed legislation would recognize the reserve clause, the draft and the farm systems.

"But, as to its business aspects, the legislation would put baseball under the anti-trust laws. It would take in television and radio, and would not permit any exclusive territorial rights."

In this connection, Celler brought up the larger minor league cities such as members of the International League and American Assn.

Prices Go Sky High

"The new third league is trying to get hold of some minor league cities, and they suddenly find the prices have gone sky high. The baseball men in the majors who control these minors have placed the price way out of reach."

Turning to a proposal by Calvin Griffith of the Washington Senators to move that team from the nation's capitol to Minneapolis, he said:

"That invities action by Congress for a strong baseball anti-trust bill."

He said that if the Senators were moved, it would prove without doubt that baseball was not a sport but a business that required such legislation.

"Griffith wants to move to Minneapolis because he believes there's more money there."

Tulsa Oilers Sign Pact With St. Louis

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The Tulsa Oilers of the Texas League have signed a two-year working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals, President Grayle Howlett announced Thursday.

Howlett described the pact as "the best we've had in my 14 years in Tulsa."

The Oilers had a working agreement with the Redbirds this past season, with Tulsa replacing Houston in the Cardinal organization.

Booters Idle Today

Soccer teams of the W. M. I. League will be idle today but action will resume Tuesday with Mt. Savage at Flintstone and Bruce at Beall.

The four teams slated to play on Tuesday will windup their first half schedule. Valley has completed its first half schedule with a 4-0 record.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland did, in regular session Monday, September 21, 1959, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of an unnamed ten (10) foot alley running from the Easterly side of East Street in the City of Cumberland in an Easterly direction for a distance of approximately two hundred forty (240) feet to its intersection with another unnamed fourteen (14) foot alley running parallel with and one hundred (100) feet distant from Central Avenue in said City.

After meeting on the premises (10:30 A.M., September 4, 1959) and remaining there for a period in excess of one-half (½) hour, the Commissioners report that several property owners appeared but no objections were filed and, after walking over the entire area involved, the following was the unanimous opinion of the Commissioners appointed to close said unnamed ten (10) foot alley:

"That there are no damages or benefits to the owners of lots binding on the unnamed ten (10) foot alley running from the Easterly side of East Street in the City of Cumberland, in an Easterly direction for a distance of approximately 240 feet to its intersection with another unnamed fourteen (14) foot alley running parallel with and 100 feet distant from Central Avenue in said City.

Under the circumstances, the Commissioners feel that since the Board of Education of Allegany County owns most of the property abutting on said unnamed ten (10) foot alley, it should be required to pay all costs incurred by the City of Cumberland in connection with the closing of said alley."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after September 21, 1959 and filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

Los Angeles, Chisox Carve Up Record Series Jackpot

29 Dodgers Get $11,231 Full Shares

31 Sox Receive $7,275; Big Klu Awarded $3,637

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers and Chicago White Sox carved up the biggest World Series jackpot in history Thursday with each of 29 victorious Dodgers receiving a record $11,231.18 for a full share.

Each of the 31 members of the losing White Sox received $7,275.17, also a record.

Fourteen other Dodgers, plus unidentified groundskeepers, and 20 others among White Sox personnel received shares ranging down to $100 from a total player pool of $893,301.40, another record.

The previous high for a winners' share was $11,147.90 by the New York Giants, who licked the Cleveland Indians in four straight in 1954. Previous high for the losers was the full share of $6,934.34 picked up by the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1956.

Will Use New Park

This year's records are likely to stand for some time, according to Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who predicted "we won't be playing another World Series" in the vast Los Angeles Coliseum.

"The Dodgers are sure to have their own park ready at least by World Series time next year," said Frick. "And if they win, they'll have the series there."

Though the Dodgers allotted fewer full shares than the losing White Sox, they voted top payments to Roger Craig, Maury Wills and Larry Sherry, all of whom reported to the club after June 1. Pitcher Art Fowler, released on Aug. 15, also drew a full share.

Wills came up from Spokane shortly after June 1, Craig came up on June 17, and Sherry didn't arrive with the parent club until June 2.

Half shares of $5,615.59 were voted to eight others, including veteran pitcher Carl Erskine who retired June 15.

Big Ted Kluszewski, obtained by the White Sox from the Pirates on Aug. 25, was awarded a half share of $3,637.59. So was Larry Doby, cut loose on Aug. 1.

Ennis, Mueller Share

Veteran Del Ennis, with the White Sox from May 1 to Aug. 20, and Don Mueller, released on May 15, were awarded $1,818.79 each.

Trainers, batboys, clubhouse attendants and batting practice pitchers on both clubs shared in the loot.

Second, third and fourth place teams in both leagues also shared in the series pot. Full shares were: Milwaukee Braves $1,808.16, Cleveland Indians $1,799.94, San Francisco Giants $1,338.34, New York Yankees $1,229.32, Pittsburgh Pirates $588.99 and Detroit Tigers $661.60.

Enos Slaughter, who spent most of the season with the New York Yankees, was voted a flat $300 by the Braves, whom he joined on Sept. 11. If the Yankees had not sold him, old Enos would have collected a $1,229.32 Yankee share.

The Braves did, however, vote a full share to their ailing second baseman, Red Schoendienst, who pinch hit and fielded only a few innings late in the year.

FIRED BY STEELERS — Irked over the team's loss to the Eagles and blaming defensive back Don Bishop (above) personally, Coach Buddy Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers dropped Bishop from the pro grid squad. Parker said that Bishop was on the sidelines getting a shoe taped, giving the Steelers only 10 men on the field when an Eagle end returned a punt for a TD.

Pimlico Special Canceled

Pondfield Fails To Get Hillsdale And Sword Dancer

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Pimlico Special, inaugurated 22 years ago as a dream race to determine the "horse of the year" by direct competition, won't be run this year. And perhaps never again.

Lou Pondfield, Pimlico's executive director, said Thursday failure to book Hillsdale and Sword Dancer for the mile and three-sixteenths run was the principal reason for calling off the 1959 running.

It will be the first time the invitational race hasn't been run since Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, then calling the shots at the ancient Baltimore track, launched it to bring together the top horses of the country to decide a national champion.

Shortly before making the announcement, Pondfield indicated that any future runnings of the $50,000 Special will be decided on a year-to-year basis.

"We have frankly discussed the possibility that the Special may have outlived its usefulness," Pondfield said. "The Special was the country's first invitational race, the idea being to invite the horses still in contention for the year's championship to have a showdown match. That's how Alfred Vanderbilt got the famous match between Seabiscuit and War Admiral on Nov. 1, 1938.

"It continued to be a championship race for many years, but I'm afraid times have changed."

"Pimlico's racing dates have been moved back to late November and December, and many top horses have had too much campaigning by then to await another race. By the same token, New Jersey racing now runs until mid-November, and New York now runs through most of that month.

Transfer Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators Thursday transferred a class B working agreement with Appleton, Wis., of the Three I league, to Wilson N.C., of the Carolina League. A spokesman said the transfer was prompted by "a decision to move closer to home."

Four Chisox Land Berths On League All-Star Team

Luis Aparicio, Fox And Early Wynn Are Unanimous Choices

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox, with three unanimous choices plus the next highest vote-getter, dominate the United Press International's 1959 American League All - Star team.

Luis Aparicio and Nelson Fox, the brilliant watch-charm double play duo, and 22-game winner Early Wynn were picked by all 24 baseball experts who made up the A.L. committee and catcher Sherman Lollar was the next most popular choice with 18 votes.

Outfielder Rocky Colavito, first baseman Vic Power and pitcher Cal McLish of the Cleveland Indians, outfielders Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn of the Detroit Tigers and third-baseman Frank Malzone of the Boston Red Sox round out the 10-man squad which for the first time in years does not include a single member of the New York Yankees.

Five Get 16 Votes

Colavito, Power, Kaline, Kuenn and Malzone each received 16 of the possible 24 votes at their positions, McLish got 11 and Kuenn won the third outfield post with 10. Mickey Mantle, with eight votes, and Yogi Berra, with two, were the only Yankees among the 29 players who received at least one vote.

The eight "regulars" compiled a composite .291 batting average and hit a total of 136 homers in 1959. Wynn, whose 271 victories make him the biggest winner among major league pitchers, had a 22-10 record and McLish, key pitcher in the Indians' surprising pennant bid, had a 19-8 mark.

Aparicio and Fox formed the sensational keystone combination that was the backbone of the White Sox' drive to their first pennant in 40 years. Aparicio, 25-year-old native of Maracaibo, Venezuela, roamed his position in a style that invited comparison with such greats as Marty Marion, Phil Rizzuto and Peewee Reese. And, in the tough, combative Fox, he found a partner who complimented his skills almost perfectly.

Important Offensively

Although their contributions were basically defensive, both Aparicio and Fox also were important figures in the White Sox' popgun attack. Aparicio hit only .257 but he stole 56 bases, scored 98 runs and knocked in 52 runs. Fox made 191 hits for a .306 average and drove in 70 runs.

Lollar, considered one of the finest "low ball catchers" of recent years, hit 21 homers and drove in 111 runs. Power batted .290 with 60 runs batted in and McLish proved the Indians' most effective pitcher over the campaign. Kaline batted .327 with 27 homers, Kuenn led the league with a .353 average and Malzone hit .280 with 19 homers and 92 runs batted in.

Voting Breakdown

The complete voting position by position:

Catcher: Sherman Lollar, White Sox (18), Gus Triandos, Orioles (4), Yogi Berra, Yankees (2).

First-Baseman: Vic Power, Indians (16), Tito Francona, Indians (7), Pete Runnels, Red Sox (1).

Second-Baseman: Nelson Fox, White Sox (24).

Shortstop: Luis Aparicio, White Sox (24).

Third-Baseman: Frank Malzone, Red Sox (16), Harmon Killebrew, Senators (7), Eddie Yost, Tigers (1).

Outfielders: Al Kaline, Tigers, and Rocky Colavito, Indians (16 each), Harvey Kuenn, Tigers (10), Mickey Mantle, Yankees (8), Jim Landis, White Sox (7), Tito Francona, Indians (6), Gene Woodling, Orioles, and Jackie Jensen, Red Sox (3 each), Minnie Minoso, Indians (2), Bob Cerv, Athletics (1).

Pitchers: Early Wynn, White Sox (24), Cal McLish, Indians (11), Camilo Pascual, Senators (5), Frank Lary, Tigers (3), Pete Daley, Athletics (2), Hoyt Wilhelm, Orioles, Jim Bunning, Tigers and Bob Shaw, White Sox (1 each)

Shoemaker Scores With Love In View

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jockey Willie Shoemaker, who has been winning the big ones at Aqueduct, guided Love In View to a length and one-half victory Thursday in the $5,000 Woodland Purse.

Shoemaker moved Love In View to a slim head lead at the top of the stretch and then drew away from Green Pastures to finish the six-furlong trip in 1:12 4-5.

Hello Kitsy, who set the early pace but tired after a half-mile was another length back in third place.

Love In View, paid $8.50, $4.00, and $2.80 in winning her second race in eight starts this year.

Traffic Light Work Begins

Potomac Edison Company employes have begun work on the changeover in the Baltimore Street traffic light system.

When completed, the amber lights will come on to warn of a change in the traffic flow, and pedestrian traffic will be controlled when the red stop lights flash on, along with the neon walk signals.

The power company also plans to lay new cable in connection with the project, spokesmen for the firm explaining that the cable will permit more flexibility in case of any future changes in the light system.

Also scheduled in the near future is the widening of Baltimore Street from Mechanic to Canal, according to C. G. Rickard Jr., assistant city engineer for streets, parks and planning. Rickard has requested permission to take down the traffic signal pole at the southwest corner of the Baltimore Street intersection while the work is being done.

Arraign Three

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UPI) — A Buddhist monk, a physician and a printer were arraigned Thursday on charges of complicity in the Sept. 25 assassination of Premier Solomon W.R.D. Bandaranaike. The venerable Mapitigama Buddha Rakita, Dr. C. Amerasinghe and H. P. Jayawardena, manager of a print shop, were arrested Wednesday night. No details of the charges against them were made public immediately. They were bound over to Oct. 25.

Steels, Rails Set Pace For Advancing Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel and rail issues carried the stock market higher in a session marked by routine trading activity.

Renewed hopes that the steel strike may be settled without the Taft-Hartley brought buyers into some of the major categories.

Market men feel President Eisenhower's fact-finding board has assumed the role of mediator, and is trying to bring both sides of the steel dispute together before making its report to the White House on Monday.

But the dullness — volume fell to 2,190,000 shares from 2,320,000 shares Wednesday — reflected caution with traders reluctant to follow up the gains with any vigor. Some issues even backed away from their best levels before closing time.

The market broadened somewhat to 1,172 issues, 10 more than Wednesday, and of these 544 advanced, 412 declined and 216 held unchanged. New highs for the year were set by 10 issues, while 16 set new lows.

American Motors was the most active issue with 65,200 shares, followed by Jersey Standard, Thiokol, American Standard and Allegheny Ludlum.

Support for the steel group brought gains of 3¼ in Carpenter, 3 in Lukens, 2¾ in Youngstown, and 2⅛ in U. S. Steel.

Rails, which depended on steel shipments to bolster their freight operations, also benefitted from the steel outlook. Gains of a point or more appeared in Atlantic Coast Line, Delaware & Hudson, New York Central and Southern Pacific.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Soybeans weakened near the close on commission house selling, but other grains were steady Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ⅛; corn off ¼ to up ⅛; oats off ⅛ to up ⅛; rye off ⅛ to up ½; and soybeans off ½ to ¾.

Wheat prices rallied from an early decline when a leading commission house bought. There was some early scattered liquidation, but offerings soon diminished. Commercial interests bought on the decline.

Corn also climbed back to the previous level. December and March fell to new seasonal lows early in the session. A resting demand and some local buying boosted the market. December was bought against sales of March at 4½ cents difference. Cash corn was easier.

Oats were steady as cash houses and elevators bought. Commercial interests sold.

Rye followed the Winnipeg Market again with firm tones. More bad weather was reported in Canada.

Soybeans opened weak again as fair weather burst over the grain belt. Selling was scattered. Prices rallied briefly as local and cash houses bought on the decline. A processor broker bought November. Meals were firm.

Reports said West Germany took 375,000 bushels of hard wheat, Norway a cargo of corn and the continent about 1,850,000 bushels of soybeans.

Outside markets were mixed.

Trucker Hurt In Area Crash

A truck driver was injured Wednesday in a collision with a tractor-trailer on U.S. Route 50, West Virginia State Police explaining that the mishap was due to fog and rain conditions.

Admitted to Hampshire Memorial Hospital, Romney, was Calvin Wilkins, 24, of Stephenson, Va. Attaches said he was discharged after X-rays and treatment of possible broken ribs.

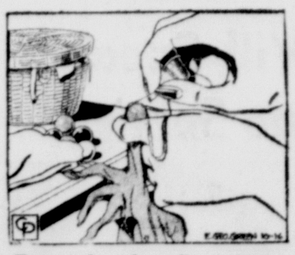

Trooper C. E. Dorsey said Wilkins drove his vehicle into the back of the trailer rig which was being operated by Russell B. Combs, 38, of Rio.

Trooper Dorsey said Combs was hauling a load of pulp wood and the impact caused damages estimated from $5,000 to $6,000 to Wilkins' truck.

No charges were preferred because of the poor driving conditions at the time, the state trooper explaining that the accident occurred at about 4:30 a. m.

Thruway Cost Payment Is Agreed Upon

City Hopes To Get Gas Tax Revenues

Agreement on the method of payment of the city's financial obligations toward the Cumberland Thruway has been reached by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and the comptroller's office of the Maryland State Roads Commission.

The way was paved last month when the city sold a $300,000 Thruway bond issue to meet Thruway payments as they come due and thus bring about the release of state gas and auto revenues the SRC has been withholding toward the obligation.

In a telephone conversation, Morris M. Brodsky, assistant SRC comptroller, told Mr. Gibson the City of Cumberland had $232,724.51 to its credit on June 30, 1959, toward the $490,000 asked of the city to match federal-aid funds available for the project.

Mr. Gibson suggested that the SRC release to the city the $22,724.51 overpayment when the city makes its 1960 payment of $70,000.

The city auditor estimated that with this extra $22,724.51, the city should get the $90,000 included in the 1959-1960 levy as its share of the state gas and auto funds.

The money to make the 1960 payment is on hand, but the city invested the major part of the bond issue funds in government issues which will give a yield of approximately four per cent interest—the rate it must pay on the Thruway bonds.

Current plans call for investing the funds and making payments to the SRC only as they come due, so investment of the additional funds will help meet interest payment.

Mr. Gibson is forwarding to the SRC a formal request for the above payment plan.

Police Heads Will Meet With FOP Unit Here

A delegation from the local Fraternal Order of Police lodge will meet with Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming on Saturday.

The meeting will be held at 10 a.m. in Mr. Fleming's office at City Hall with Police Chief B. F. Gaffney present.

The FOP unit has asked for the meeting to discuss the charter change which would allow the city to hire non residents as patrolmen or give them a chance to seek top positions.

The amendment to the city charter, as passed September 21 reads:

"No person shall be employed in any capacity in the Fire or Police Department unless he is a citizen of the United States ((and has been a resident of the city more than three years)) and is of good moral character and can read and write the English language, and is not addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage. All employes of the Fire or Police Departments shall become a resident of the City of Cumberland during 30 days after permanent appointment."

(The phrase in double brackets was deleted from the charter and the sentence printed in bold type was added.)

Youth Injured In Auto Crash

A 20-year-old Bedford youth was injured about 1:50 a.m. yesterday when his automobile smashed into a blinker light at a railroad crossing about 2½ miles west of Bedford.

Pennsylvania State Police said Dale Plummer was alone, driving east on U.S. Route 30, when his vehicle failed to negotiate a curve at the railroad crossing.

The car went off the curve, hit and knocked down the signal light pole.

Plummer was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital with brush burns of the face and forehead and a possible concussion. X-rays were taken.

Johnson To Attend Conference Today

District Forester William H. Johnson and Ralph Peace, district parks supervisor, will be at the Baltimore Memorial Stadium beginning at 10 a.m. today for a conference on the recreation resources of Maryland.

Also attending from this district will be Donald Boyer, superintendent of all parks in Frederick County; Curtis Conway, superintendent of Fort Frederick State Park in Washington County; Marshall Moats, superintendent of Gambrill State Park in Frederick County; Charles Sandy, superintendent of Cunningham Falls State Park in Frederick County; Richard Mills, superintendent of Gathland State Park on the Frederick-Washington County line, and William Tritapoe, superintendent of Washington Monument State Park in Washington County.

Comptroller Pays Visit

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, right, meets Rear Admiral Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, at a Kiwanis Club meeting here yesterday. Lloyd Fox, club vice president, looks on. Admiral MacMillan last night presented the first in a series of travelogues sponsored here by the club.

Beth Jacob Lists Services For Weekend

Congregation Will Observe Festival

The schedule of services for the Jewish Festival of Tabernacles or Succoth will begin today at Beth Jacob Synagogue, according to Rabbi Bertram Cohen.

Rabbi Cohen said the services will begin at 4 p.m. today with a children's festival party in the Sukkah (tabernacle) of the congregation.

This evening at 8 o'clock the festival will be ushered in by formal services in the synagogue. Services also will be held tomorrow morning at 7:30 and services for the second night of the festival will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m.

Rabbi Cohen said services on Sunday will be held at 9 a.m. Following these services, children of the Sunday school at Centre Street Methodist Church will visit the tabernacle.

Mrs. Hilda Kruth will be the hostess for the party this evening and Mrs. Charles Waingold, Mrs. Robert Friedland, Mrs. Earl Bilsky and Mrs. Harry Lichtenstein will be the hostesses for the refreshment hour following the services tonight and tomorrow. George Ossip and Benjamin Marx will donate the wine for the Sanctification Service.

On Friday, October 23, the congregation will observe the Eighth Day of Solemn Assembly at 8 p.m. Services on the following day will begin at 7:30 a.m. and the Yizkor (memorial) services will be held at 9 a.m.

Services for Simhas Torah (rejoicing of the Torah) will be held next Saturday at 7 p.m. There will be a party for children and adults following this service.

On Sunday, October 25, the congregation will hold services at 9 a.m. for the Festival of Tabernacles. This commemorates the harvest season and is the Jewish Thanksgiving.

The Tabernacle Festival is supposed to be a re-creation of the conditions the Israelites experienced on their journey in the desert from Egypt to the land of Canaan. The festival of the Rejoicing of the Torah commemorates the completion of the annual cycle of the reading of the Pentateuch in the synagogue.

Quartets To Sing At Oakland Today

The Barons from Steubenville, Ohio, will be the featured singers tonight at the sixth annual Night of Harmony sponsored by the Oakland Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

The program will be held at Southern High School in Oakland and will begin at 8 p.m. (EST). Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Stanley Callis, president of the Oakland Chapter, said the program also will include three groups from the Oakland area.

Births

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. McCuiston, Jacksonville, Fla., announce the birth of a son there yesterday. The mother is the former Miss Mary Loris Shober, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Shober, 111 North Allegany Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Griffith announce the birth of a son September 29 at Portsmouth (Va.) Naval Hospital. The mother is the former Miss Charlene Twigg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Twigg, Mt. Pleasant Road. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Griffith, Baltimore Pike.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Hawse, 227 Springdale Street, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Fisher, 707 Montgomery Street, a son Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Kelley, Valley Road, a son Wednesday.

Truck Snaps Phone Wire On Route 28

Service Disrupted For Nine Hours

Telephone service was disrupted for nine hours yesterday along Route 28 when a tractor-trailer truck snapped a phone wire in the vicinity of Furnace Acres Addition.

Officials of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here received word of the accident about 10:30 a. m. and service was completely restored at 7 p. m.

The accident was caused when a tractor-trailer was pushed off the highway after it had mechanical trouble. As the truck was pushed off the road the top of the vehicle snapped one of the cables.

The phone company said 257 phones were cut out of service as a result of the accident and six C&P employes were sent to the area to repair the damage. A spokesman for the company said in an accident such as the one yesterday all the phones must be checked in the homes to see if service has been restored.

The West Virginia State Police at Romney dispatched a cruiser to the area to patrol in the event of fire or accidents.

Order To Open Road Is Sought

A request for an injunction to open a Polish Mountain right-of-way has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Ernest Hoffman and Alma Hoffman, his wife, through Attorney Edward J. Ryan, brought the equity suit against Ernest Poole and Regina Poole, his wife. The Hoffmans contended in their bill of complaint that the right-of-way was granted by the defendants, from whom they bought property on the east side of Polish Mountian about one mile from the top.

The Hoffmans charge that the Pooles have barricaded the right-of-way and placed a wire fence across it, forcing the Hoffmans to use another road to reach the highway from their home.

Finally, the bill of complaint seeks a court order requiring the defendants to show cause why an injunction should not be issued restraining the defendants from interfering with the complainants in the use of the right-of-way provided in the deed to their property.

Inquest Planned In Fatal Crash

Bedford County (Pa.) Coroner Dr. J. H. Kniseley said last night an inquest will be scheduled soon in the death of Mrs. Alice V. Rhodes, 66, of Saxton, who was fatally injured September 16 in a two-car collision about a half mile south of Bedford on U.S. Route 220.

Dr. Kniseley said last night several important factors must be worked out before the inquest is held.

Mrs. Rhodes' husband, Milton Rhodes, 74, driver of one of the cars, and M/Sgt. Landon Lowe, 35, of Chauncey, W. Va., were admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital following the accident.

The soldier was released two days later and was sent to the U.S. Army Hospital, Carlisle, Pa. Mr. Rhodes was released from the hospital on October 6.

Lurana Unit To Meet

Lurana Veteran Unit, CSMC, will meet Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burkey, 524 Mill Street, LaVale.

City Reports Tax Collection Hits $736,271

Anticipates About $300,000 Monday

Collections on city taxes totaled $736,271 yesterday and officials anticipate that up to $300,000 more may come in by Monday.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner, said city taxes will be accepted without interest at the City Collector's Office until Monday at 5 p. m. and any mailed payments postmarked until midnight on October 19.

A fairly steady stream of taxpayers, together with mailed payments, brought yesterday's collection to $64,000, according to George E. Davis, city collector.

Collections to date, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson reported, are about 59½ per cent of all estimated taxes on real and personal property of individuals and corporations.

He said that from past experience, the city can expect to get in up to $300,000 more by the close of business Monday.

If the taxes come in, it will put collections on schedule and will bring total collections to 82 per cent of all taxes billed to date.

The city has billed only part of the taxes on the personal property of corporations.

Assessments on such taxes are made by the State Tax Commissioner, and the city sends out bills as assessments are certified throughout the year.

Mrs. Roeder has pointed out several times that taxpayers who are unable to pay the entire bill by Monday's deadline may pay any part of the bill and will have to pay interest only on the balance.

Interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month, dating back to August 17—the date the levy was set—will be charged after Monday.

Civitans To Mark Sixth Anniversary This Evening

The sixth anniversary of the Cumberland Civitan Club will be observed tonight with a dinner program beginning at 7 p.m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

John J. Hafer will give a talk on his observations during a trip to Russia and a more recent trip to Egypt, Clifford C. Minke, club president, announced last night.

A highlight of the meeting, open to members and wives, will be the presentation of a donation to the Cumberland and Frostburg chapters of Friends Aware of Handicapped Children.

Charles Statler will accept the donation on behalf of the local chapter, while Mrs. Elmer Saville, president of the Frostburg Chapter, is expected to accept the donation on behalf of that group.

Missionary Will Speak At Cornerstone Service

Baptist Church Program Oct. 25

Rev. Dallas C. Bivins, recently appointed new misisonary for the Western Baptist Association of Maryland, will be the speaker for the cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new Grace Baptist Church building on Greene Street.

The cornerstone services originally were planned for this Sunday in conjunction with the 26th anniversary celebration of Grace Baptist Church, but the ceremonies have been postponed until Sunday, October 25.

Rev. W. Randolph Keefe Jr., pastor, will officiate at the cornerstone laying ceremony which will be held at noon following the regular morning worship service.

State Financial Health Is Good, Goldstein Says

Comptroller Speaks To Local Kiwanians

Financially, the State of Maryland is in a much better condition than most of the other 49 states, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein told the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday at Central YMCA.

Mr. Goldstein pointed out that annually the federal budget is about $77 billion and the total budgets of all the states about $51 billion. The cost of operating the state and federal governments averages out to about $734 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

The state comptroller asserted that the State of Maryland provides all essential services within a sound financial structure.

There has been a vast increase in state expenditures since 1939, when Mr. Goldstein, then a 24-year-old attorney just out of law school, began serving in the General Assembly.

In 1939, for instance, the total budget was $41 million. For the 1959-60 fiscal year it is $451 million. In 1939 there were 280,000 children in Maryland's public schools and today there are twice as many, 560,000. The University of Maryland budget in 1939 was about $3 million and today it exceeds $29 million.

From a population standpoint, Maryland has changed greatly in 20 years. In 1939, the state had 1,800,000 inhabitants. Today, the population is 3,060,000. Of that total, some 2,300,000 live in Baltimore City and the four suburban Baltimore and Washington counties of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Montgomery and Prince George's. All of the other 19 counties, including Allegany, add up to about 700,000 inhabitants.

Mr. Goldstein contended that the sound policies of Governor J. Millard Tawes were chiefly responsible for Maryland's financial condition. The state had a surplus of over $13 million last fiscal year and it is expected to reach $20 million this year.

The executive-type budget which Maryland has employed since 1916 assures the state a balanced budget. The General Assembly may reduce items in the budget submitted by the Governor but may not increase them. For every expenditure there must be a corresponding receipt to assure fiscal solvency.

Vegetable Judging Today

Four 4-H Club boys from the Flintstone area will represent Allegany County in the Maryland State Vegetable Judging Contest which will be held today in the Horticulture Building at the University of Maryland, College Park.

James B. Arnold, assistant county farm agent in charge of 4-H Club work, has been instructing the boys in various phases of vegetable judging during a series of training periods, the last of which was held yesterday afternoon.

Members of the Allegany County team are Larry Smith, Reed Clingerman, Ronald Stafford and Richard Custer, who will leave early this morning for College Park where the judging will begin at 10 o'clock. Mr. Arnold will accompany them.

The judging contest will include vegetable variety identification, vegetable diseases, potato grading, potato defects, insect identification and weed identification.

All of the counties in the state are eligible to compete, according to Mr. Arnold, who said individuals will be competing for cash prizes.

The four top finalists will represent Maryland at the National Junior Vegetable Growers Convention at Washington in December.

'Harvey' Dates Change

The Algonquin Players yesterday announced that its production of "Harvey" will be presented at Carroll Hall October 24, 25 and 26 instead of October 22, 23 and 24, as originally planned.

Methodist Speakers

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam (left) of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church, and Dr. Lowell S. Ensor (right), president of Western Maryland College, will speak tonight at Centre Street Methodist Church here. The program, one of several scheduled by the bishop to raise $350,000 toward a new library for the college, is slated to begin at 8 p. m. Rev. Dr. Paul F. Warner, superintendent of the district, will preside over the meeting. The 50-voice choir of Western Maryland College will sing.

Cresaptown Firefighters Collecting Fund Cards

Cresaptown volunteer firemen this week are collecting the annual fund drive cards which were distributed to the homes, Fire Chief Louis Winter said last night.

Joseph Wenrich, chairman of the drive, said about one-third of the cards have been collected and it is hoped the project will be completed by tomorrow. Residents are being asked to have the cards ready to be picked up when a volunteer knocks on their door.

Mr. Wenrich reported that during a fire drill at the Cresaptown Elementary and Junior High School last week, 634 pupils and 26 teachers evacuated the building in one minute, 50 seconds.

When the pupils and teachers hear the regular fire alarm they quickly leave the building in an orderly manner.

Following an inspection of the school last week during Fire Prevention Week, Mr. Wenrich said everything was in "very good shape," with the exception of minor repairs needed on a few doors. Firemen were assured the necessary repairs would be made.

Last Friday the pupils of the school were given a talk on fire prevention by Mr. Wenrich who distributed home inspection blanks to be taken to the parents of the children.

This is the tenth year the fire brigade of the school has been mobilized, according to Mr. Wenrich, who said 18 boys in the eighth and ninth grades are instructed on the use of extinguishers and water standpipes located in the building.

In the event of a fire at the school, the pupils and teachers would be evacuated with the help of the brigade which would begin fighting the flames until the volunteers arrived.

AFL-CIO Chiefs To Meet Here

Top officers of the Maryland-D.C. AFL-CIO will attend a conference planned here Saturday by the Western Maryland Central Labor Council.

The all-day session will open at 9:30 a.m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel, with the morning session devoted to legislative problems and an afternoon workshop on state, local and national labor problems.

Representing the state body will be W. D. Strong, Washington, president; Charles Della, Baltimore, secretary, and Culver B. Windsor, Baltimore, associate COPE director.

About 60 delegates from area AFL-CIO unions are expected to attend.

F. Patrick Allender and Joseph V. Burke headed the committee on arrangements for the session.

City Receives Court Order

The Circuit Court of Allegany County on Tuesday served a writ of certiorari upon the city attorney in connection with the appeal filed by Emmett A. Dougherty from a ruling of the Board of Zoning Appeals denying him a permit to build a truck garage in Southview Addition.

The appeal said the Mayor and Council and Board of Zoning Appeals acted in an arbitrary manner in causing the city engineer to revoke the permit.

The petition asked that the court set a hearing within 10 days after the serving of the order.

Data in the case was being collected yesterday in City Hall.

The permit was disapproved by the Board of Zoning Appeals in a decision announced two weeks ago.

Wiley Ford PTA Festival Tonight

The Wiley Ford School PTA will hold a fun festival tonight at 7 o'clock at the school.

A bake sale will be held, and a variety of refreshments — including cotton candy—will be sold. Various games will be available, and prizes will be awarded. There also will be a knick-knack sale.

At 8:30 p. m., pupils from the Dixon Dance Studio will present a program.

Valley's Plea For Buses Is Turned Down

For two apparent reasons the Allegany County Board of Education has decided not to provide bus transportation for some 160 students from Lonaconing to Valley High School.

The first reason is that the board's general policy has been not to provide school bus transportation for boys and girls living within incorporated communities. Should the board make an exception in Lonaconing, persons living in other incorporated communities would expect the same service, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

The second reason is the practical one that the county owns no buses and none of the contractors who provide the buses have any that are not now being used to near capacity.

Lonaconing residents had urged the temporary bus service until a sidewalk could be laid so that the children would not have to walk out in Route 36.

Mr. Richard Winer, a member of the Board of Education, visited Lonaconing last week for a first-hand inspection of conditions there. She reported that at some points motor vehicles were parked illegally on the road surface so that the children had to walk even farther out into the road.

At its meeting Tuesday, the Board of Education also approved the awarding of coal contracts to four firms. The Climull Coal Company will transport coal to 11 schools, Consolidated Fuel Sales Company to six schools; Ayers and Company and Andrew B. Shaw, four schools each. In addition, the Board of Education trucks will be used to transport coal from Consolidated mines directly to the schools.

The amount in the school budget for fuel is $48,430, nearly all of which is for coal.

Permission was granted the LaVale Junior Music Clubs for use of the Parkside School auditorium December 8 for a Parents Night program.

'Y' Rec Club Election Set

The Cumberland YMCA Rec Club will elect council members Friday for the 1959-60 program year, B. U. Smith, general secretary of the YMCA, announced.

Holdover members will be retained if still attending Cumberland high schools, he said.

All persons belonging to the Rec Club are eligible to hold office in the council. Council members' parents are asked to assist in chaperoning weekly dances at the YMCA.

Council members select orchestras to play at the weekly dances; they decorate the gym for special occasions; and make decisions regarding the operaton of the program, now in its 16th year at the YMCA.

Voting on council members will be by ballot, Mr. Smith, said. He acts as advisor for Rec Club activities which average 300 person in attendance each week.

Board Approves First Street Home Permit

Use Of Lot Space 'Best Conceivable'

The Board of Zoning Appeals has approved the application of Allegheny Homes Company to build a frame and aluminum dwelling at 612 East First Street.

In an opinion handed down Wednesday, the board said, however, that the applicant should have properly named the sides of the house in his application to conform with the usage of the house and its layout.

The permit for the construction of the house, as requested, was given the applicant by the city engineer, the opinion said, adding that when protests were received from property owners in the neighborhood the house was facing on Memorial Avenue, the city engineer revoked the permit. By this time, the superstructure of the home was finished and work on the interior had started.

Neighbors Object

The applicant testified before the board that the entrance does not necessarily have to be at the front of a dwelling, and that the building was placed on the lot for the best utilization of the space to conform with buildings on First Street and Memorial Avenue.

Objectors said the house was built facing Memorial Avenue and not East First Street, as required in the permit, and did not have sufficient back yard, that the construction material is different from that of other houses on Memorial Avenue and that the house was placed on an angle so it is not a full 20 feet from Memorial Avenue at one end of the lot.

In its comment, the board said the applicant was not required to have a full 20-foot yard on Memorial Avenue since he designated First Street as the front.

It further said he attempted to put the house on the lot in the best possible position to conform with yards on both streets.

Would Have Approved

The naming of the sides of the house in the application to conform with the zoning law, the board said, "provokes criticism."

The application with the true description of the building would necessarily have been denied by the city engineer, the board continued, but when appealed to the Board of Zoning Appeals in the proper order, would have reasonably resulted in the board's approving the application, since the use of the lot space has been the "best conceivable."

Up To Engineer

The board said the "applicant assumed he was acting in the best interest of the neighborhood; and, this interest is to his own advantage because he owns and intends to develop considerable land in the same neighborhood."

Referring to complaints from citizens in the neighborhood to the use of aluminum, the board said construction material is not specifically mentioned in the zoning ordinance, and that if a building fails to comply with the building code it is the responsibility of the city engineer to refuse a permit for the use of any unacceptable or unsafe materials.

In added comment, the board quoted Section 15-4 "The side yard of a corner lot shall not be considered as frontage in determining the depth of a required front yard."

Suggests Change

It may be advisable, the board said, to make a recommendation that the wording of Section 15 be changed to provide a clearer meaning. Thought must be given to the fact that to require all buildings around a block be a distance of 20 feet from the street, corner lots must be laid out with more square footage to provide for this extra side yard on one side.

The opinion did not try to answer one question of objectors—What is the front of a house?

The applicant insisted one cannot legislate on "how you can enter a home."

The drawing on which the original permit was based labeled the side of the house facing First Street as "front" but showed a door on the Memorial Avenue side.

Man, Wife, Injured In Crash, Return

A local couple admitted to Cornwall (Canada) General Hospital August 31 with injuries sustained in a one-car accident returned home last night.

Mrs. Pearl E. Keith, 35, of 638 North Centre Street, who was more seriously hurt in the accident, and her husband, Rudolph H. Keith, 29, returned to Cumberland by train.

Also injured in the accident about six miles from Cornwall were Mrs. Keith's mother, Mrs. Corrine Deffinbaugh, and a brother, Gordon Deffinbaugh, Oldtown, who were hospitalized but later released and returned home.

Mrs. Keith sustained a fractured pelvis and facial injuries. Her husband sustained a broken ankle. Mrs. Keith was driving toward Montreal on a vacation trip when the car went out of control on a wet highway, rammed into pumps at a service station, and turned over.

Equity Suit Filed

Catherine Rosenberger has filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Gurney E. Rosenberger.
